HERE'S TO YOU TIME

COUNTING DOWN THE DAYS TO TEN VERY SPECIAL HUNTER VALLEY MOMENTS

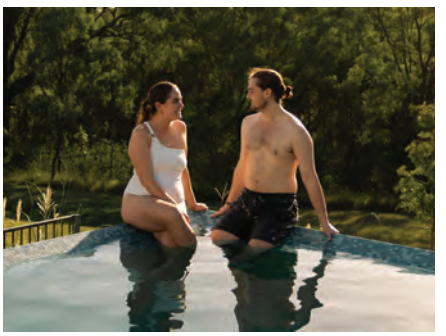
10 HOSPITALITY, THE HUNTER VALLEY'S SWEET SPOT Have a chat with any one of our chefs or winemakers and you'll quickly gain a sense that we love what we do and have a way of making you feel at home from the moment we first connect. It's the little things, like being welcomed to picnic in the grounds of the family-run winery, or a thoughtful small farm cheese plate to take the edge off your late night check-in.

9 WE'LL TAKE YOU TO NEW HEIGHTS Champagne breakfast? Wait until you try it at 3,000 feet, drifting over vineyards into the rising sun in a hot air balloon. Venture up into the towering gums and terraced vineyards of Mount View for views to the coast from Bimbadeen lookout and a spectacular lunch spot perched high on the hilltop. Or make your special moment unforgettable, skimming the escarpment of Wollemi National Park with a scenic helicopter flight.

8 FRUITS OF THE VALLEY We'll proudly walk you through our sustainable kitchen gardens, swing open our farmgates, and roll-up our sleeves, to get you hands-on and hands-down wild about the valley-grown produce we're so passionate about. The care we invest in our soils, river system and sustainable farming methods, is the quality and flavour difference you'll appreciate in every glass we pour and plate we present.

7 AHHH ... SPA! Where better for that spa retreat than the lush green Hunter Valley, where you can drink in clean country air with every yoga Asana, immersed in blissful landscapes. Imagine basking by your own private woodfire post-couple's massage, with a satisfying glass of Hunter Valley wine. And how might star-gazing in complete solitude enhance your whole experience?

6 A GOOD NATURE-SOAK With wide-open spaces everywhere you turn, the kids can roam, and finding family time is easy. Stroll through manicured gardens with fun and colourful seasonal installations, or get competitive over a round of golf at one of our championship golf courses. Encounter native animals at the Hunter Valley Wildlife Park. Or get up-close with Clydesdales and Shetland ponies on a guided trail ride. Cycle along picturesque country lanes and meander through vineyard rows fringed with climbing roses.



5 STANDING ON SACRED GROUND Flanked by ancient Wollemi forest, the region has a fascinating heritage and Aboriginal culture. Follow Wollombi Brook to historic Wollombi Village. Once a major junction of the convict-built Great North Road from Sydney, it dates back to the 1800s. A heritage walk takes in pretty sandstone churches, the old Court House and school.

4 TO MARKET TO MARKET Pull on a pair of boots, swing that market basket over your shoulder and start your weekend at a Wine Country market with a round-up of local growers, artisans, craftspersons and creatives you're going to love getting to know. Bespoke shopping comes with small-town territory. Chic boutiques and gift shops in gorgeous settings, alpaca barn and wine barrel furniture finds, village bakeries, decadent cheese rooms and gourmet pantries.

3 DRIVER DESIGNATED! Let a local do the driving for you and lead you to what piques your interest. An intimate half day drive for two, to whisk you away to the most romantic tables to be found, picture-perfect outlooks and the joy of new wine discoveries together. Embark on a small-group shuttle with adventurous friends, for that long lunch, concert, or chasing down craft beer, gin, cheese or chocolate indulgence.

2 HOW CREATIVE DO YOU WANT TO GET? Picture yourself, paintbrush in hand and a trophy red in your glass. Get your fill between tastings, at ever-changing gallery spaces or sculpture walks and a host of artistic endeavours at the Singleton Arts & Cultural Centre.

1 YOU'VE ARRIVED! With so much choice you'll be counting down the days until you can come back for more.

HERE'S TO ALMOST 200 YEARS OF LEGENDARY

The Hunter Valley's enviable heritage of trailblazing viticulturists, winemaking dynasties and iconic wines, is where great Australian grape growing and winemaking all began. The valley's first small vineyard plots of about 20 acres were planted on the Northern banks of the Hunter River trade route in the early 1820s. Australia's first families of wine soon branched out into the surrounding hill country with more than 500 acres of vines and by the roaring '20s, had become the bastion of premium wine production.

Nearly 200 years down that winding country road and the pioneering spirit of Hunter Valley Wine Country lives on in an unrivalled class of skilled viticulturists and their winemaking counterparts who are unafraid of pushing boundaries to achieve distinctive wines that are rich in character and regional authenticity, vintage after vintage.

To this day, a handful of Hunter Valley estates are privileged to still produce sublime wines from 11 historic blocks of the original plantings, on ancient European root stocks that came over with the First Fleet. These vineyards are all the more rare for having remained unscathed by an outbreak of phylloxera in the late 1800s which decimated 70% of Europe's vineyards, making the vines some of the oldest in the world. You can find these prized Shiraz, Semillion and Chardonnay vineyards across the Valley.

The more you discover about Hunter Valley wine, the more you'll appreciate our torchbearers' legacy of great Australian winemaking, in every satisfying glass of Hunter Valley wine.

Winery

HERE'S TO HAND PICKING GREATNESS

Here in the Hunter Valley, we don't make wines en masse. We value quality and character over volume and it shines through in the many extraordinary wines unique to our region. Awarded by the world's top wine judges and enjoyed by wine lovers across the world, our iconic Semillon is the world's best. There's no denying our highly prized old-vine Shiraz has set an enduring benchmark for quality Australian wines and we lay claim to being the birthplace of classy Chardonnay. The trailblazer of Australia's grape growing and winemaking industry for almost 200 years, Hunter Valley Wine Country has cultivated its own, distinctive pedigree of hand-crafted wine styles, and thanks to the rise of a dynamic new generation of producers, the region's heart continues to beat for adventurous winemaking that inspires and delights.

Wine tasting in the Hunter Valley is a voyage of personal discovery. With as many as 30 different varietals to be explored, at cellar doors in Pokolbin, Lovedale, Mount View, Hermitage Road, Broke Fordwich and Upper Hunter, the real fun is finding out what's gone into making the wine that peaks your interest. Local vineyards tend to be small to medium producers, so when you can't decide what you like most about a wine, you'll have the opportunity to ask the winemaker first-hand, at many of the cellar doors.

Is a wild yeast ferment the secret to that Chardonnay you're crazy about? Is that French or American oak tickling your palate? Has a particular patch of soil had a bearing on the heavenly aroma emanating from that glass you're swirling? Expect to feel inspired by wonderfully individual wine-making methods and our absolute passion for provenance.

On the hunt for a wine to get dinner conversation going? Choose from dozens of character-laden Mediterranean reds, like Tempranillo, Barbera or Sangiovese, zesty whites like Vermentino or Albariño, or a clean Verdelho.

Looking to cellar some wines? Classic Hunter Semillon, Shiraz and Chardonnay styles are impeccably made to age well and be enjoyed as fully matured wines. Intrigued by the new wave of wines? Track down our young talent for the magic of boundary-pushing blends, spritz-like wildcards, unfined textures and unbridled creativity.

You're sure to be surprised and guaranteed to be inspired.

FROM LITTLE THINGS ...

WE TALK TO WINE SELECTORS' FOUNDER AND HUNTER VALLEY LIVING LEGEND, GREG WALLS, ABOUT HIS LOVE FOR THE HUNTER VALLEY

Some people are bitten by the infectious Hunter Valley bug and make the move to enjoy the region's beauty and its world-class wines. Others are fortunate to be born and bred here – Greg Walls is one of the latter. With endless passion for his beloved Valley, he's taken a small, local wine association and grown it into Australia's leading wine subscription business.

Q. Wine Selectors grew from the Hunter Valley Wine Society – why did you choose to base your business in the Hunter Valley?

A. The region has been my home most of my life, and the Hunter Valley is one of the oldest and most traditional wine-producing areas in Australia. So, it was my first focus and wine love.

The Hunter Valley Wine Society provided the opportunity to market the Hunter Valley producers and the region under one banner.

Q. You've been part of the Hunter Valley wine industry for almost 50 years – how has the local region evolved over those years?

A. When the Hunter Valley Wine Society commenced in the mid-1970s there were only about 45 wineries with recognised names like Drayton, Tulloch, Tyrrell, Lindeman's, Mount Pleasant, and Wyndham. Most were farmers adding grape growing as a crop. Back then, a visit to the Hunter Valley was just to buy wine with only a couple of places to eat, and no tourist attractions.

The Sydney elite 'discovered' the region and boutique wineries like Briar Ridge and Lakes Folly were established.

Today, there are over 170 producers and cellar doors, incredible restaurants, loads of excellent accommodation options, an integrated tourism region, golf courses, gardens, the zoo – the list just goes on.

Q. What changes have you seen in the styles of Hunter Valley wines?

A. As Jancis Robinson, one of the world's most influential wine critics, says, "Hunter Semillons are one of Australia's great gifts to the wine world." Our traditional styles are deliciously light-bodied, low in alcohol and, with patience, develop gorgeous honeyed, toasty grilled nut complexities.

Shiraz is the Hunter's iconic red and has changed a lot since its 'sweaty saddle' days of big and bold expressions. Today, Shiraz from the region is more medium-bodied savoury and complex – when young they deliver red and dark berries, spice and soft tannins, and go on to develop an earthy, silky texture and lovely perfume when aged.

Hunter Valley Chardonnay has evolved with modern expressions maintaining full-flavoured characters of ripe peach and citrus, with less obvious oak treatment.

Verdelho has been grown in the region for a long time, especially in Upper Hunter vineyards.

And, in recent years, we've also seen many new (to the Hunter Valley) emerging varietals, with excellent Tempranillo, Barbera, Sangiovese and Fiano, adding to the region's world-class wine lists.

Q. You were inducted as a Hunter Valley Living Legend in 2018 – that must be a great honour.

A. I feel extremely honoured to be inducted as a Living Legend of the Hunter Valley wine industry, as an acknowledgment of the contribution Wine Selectors and I have made, both to the wine industry and the broader community during the last 45 years – a lifetime achievement.

It's a very proud peer group with everyone focused on the Hunter Valley's continued success.

Q. You own a boutique vineyard in the Hunter Valley; is that correct?

A. That's right. Jackson's Hill is our small vineyard at Mount View. It's our beautiful family retreat – it's a lot of hard work, but even more pleasure. The vineyard is planted with Semillon, Cabernet Franc and Cabernet Sauvignon.

The Mount View sub-region is very special and different – it's based on an ancient seabed with lots of fossils of sea creatures evident in the rock formations.

We live in Newcastle but visit most weekends. We arrive mid-afternoon Friday to enjoy a sundowner on the verandah looking down from the elevated Mount View to the other side of the Valley and the Barrington Ranges. It's so peaceful.

I love being in Hunter Valley wine country. Even after so many years here, for me, there's always something new to do and almost endless new wines to discover – that's why I started Wine Selectors and our Hunter Valley wine release – to give everyone else in Australia the opportunity to experience what I get to enjoy.

What makes Wine Selectors' Hunter Valley wine subscriptions so fantastic is that each dozen you receive is like your own special Hunter Valley wine adventure. They showcase the sheer diversity and quality of the Hunter's great varieties, vineyards and winemakers, and you can take your time and explore at your own pace – just like Greg.

We're talking flame-grilling over fire-pits, sophisticated food and wine pairings, long table lunches between vineyard rows, restaurant veggie patches ripe for picking, chef sessions to supercharge your home cooking, grazing local cheesemakers, chocolatiers and smokehouses, a sneaky glass of sparkling with breakfast, and being brought undone by the impossibility of settling for just one dessert, from an eye-popping array of bespoke sweets.

Taste the flavour difference in the locally farmed produce our foodies are wild about sharing. We let the growing season shape our menus, so there's always something fresh to feel enticed by. Tempted to try your hand at cheesemaking? Get savvy with slow cooking? Perfect your paella? Expand your repertoire with a culinary class and a glass of iconic Hunter wine to take the whole experience up a notch. Your food-loving heart will fall hard for our Hunter Valley food culture.

HERE'S TO WORLD-CLASS CUISINE

The real joy of wine is found in good company enjoying great food together. The gifted chefs of the Hunter Valley are every bit as picky about what they present to you, as our skilled winemakers are.

You'll have your choice of 5 hatted restaurants, no end of intimate settings overlooking vines that the wine in your glass has been harvested from, wickedly good dessert bars, and relaxed pubs or cafés where you can kick back in country ambience without missing a beat on deliciousness.

The heart and soul of Hunter food culture is produce-driven menus and passionate people who work their magic with their pick of an abundant regional crop.

Park yourself by an open woodfire and you'll quickly acclimatise to a food adventure with a share plate of artisan cheeses. Really savour the sweetness of local lamb and beef that melts so beautifully onto your fork and the crispness of veggies you never knew tasted so good.

It's all part of the trophy-wine-worthy food experience that is, in essence, wonderfully simple, defiantly regional, and certain to leave you craving more.

HERE'S TO TREATING YOUR TASTEBUDS

Chasing down must-try tastings? Put our gourmet artisans into your GPS for food finds unique to the Hunter Valley that are every bit as true to regional character as our premium wines. Local farming families have for decades harvested ripe and delicious figs, citrus and avocadoes, still eagerly sought for the larders of our best chefs, and sold from the farmgate.

The olive groves of 30 boutique growers thrive in our Mediterranean-like climate. Immensely proud of their fragrant and fruity extra virgin oil, they'll tempt you with salad-transforming flavour-infused varieties, barrel aged vinegars, tapenades and moreish marinated olives.

Delectably creamy, small-dairy cheeses abound, and you can peek behind the scenes to see some of Australia's most skilled soft cheese makers in action. For picnic-ready paté and house-cured charcuterie, head straight to the smokehouse.

Almost-too-pretty-to-eat pastries, luscious preserves, raw honey, crackly-crusted heirloom-starter sourdough, chocolate bark laced with native flavours and intricately hand painted bonbons are all part of the local gourmet landscape.

If you're sold on the idea that everything tastes better on tap, our independent brewers have you covered. You can quench your thirst on a range of beers and ciders. Some of our breweries also offer brewery tours, live music and snacks to go with your schooner or tasting paddle of freshly made ale.

HERE'S TO THE LANDSCAPE AND THE PORTRAITS

In a place so beautiful, creativity, arts and culture go hand in hand with wine and food culture. A sip of wine and you might feel inclined to explore your creative side with a gallery visit, culture walk, or art class, or discover a host of artistic endeavours at the Singleton Arts & Cultural Centre.

Outdoor art installations in surrounding towns and villages include sixty eye-catching murals at Kurri Kurri, telling the stories that shaped the region. Spring brings an annual Sculpture Festival at Wollombi, where you can also explore Yengo National Park and see Circuit Flat Bridge, one of Australia's oldest, built by convicts in 1831.

Mount Bright, Bimbadeen and Pokolbin Mountains Road lookouts are all easily accessible treks through surrounding National Park. Ancient engravings at Biame Cave and Finchley Cultural Walk are something to behold.

Equally exhilarating is cantering across farmland on horseback with a guided tour that's tailored to your riding experience. Free-ranging your way down winding country roads on two wheels is quite literally a breath of fresh air. Or fly free as a bird above a patchwork of vineyards and drift into a fiery sunrise, by hot air balloon.

HERE'S TO FAMILY TIME

MAKE GREAT FAMILY MEMORIES Many of our most popular wineries, eateries and activities are family-run and not only welcome children but offer thoughtful extras, just for them. You won't miss a beat finding experiences to make treasured memories with the whole family, throughout your stay.

SO MUCH SPACE FOR SERIOUS FUN Playtime here goes further than our riverside, vineyard and small town playgrounds. Within the grounds of cellar doors you'll visit, grassy surrounds where the kids are free to roam, sculpture walks, lawn games, and themed gardens with fairy-tale installations and seasonal displays, from dinosaurs and snow to Christmas lights. Curious kids will be thrilled to see chickens and be greeted by friendly farm dogs. Chase adventure tracing heritage stock routes by segway. Delight the kids with hand-feeding farm animals and kangaroos at Hunter Valley Wildlife Park and book an awesome encounter with a python or cute baby wombat.

NO NEED TO SKIP THE TASTINGS ALL TOGETHER We're not short on cellar doors creative with keeping the kids engaged while you savour the wines. Think local cheese and kombucha tastings for teens, snack-matching for kids, Giant Jenga, colouring-in, activity boxes, or a dedicated children's zone.

BRING THE BIKES Or hire them here! Active families can follow Hermitage road cycleway from one boutique cellar door to another, pausing for family photos in spectacular scenery. Pack a picnic lunch and pick a spot in lush countryside to soak in the fresh air and sunlight together.

TEMPT FUSSY EATERS WITH FOOD ADVENTURE We're big on just-picked produce. Explore a kitchen garden on the way to your table to spark your kids' appetite for eating well. Book a big family table for a great value country pub meal, ease into your mornings together with a relaxed café breakfast, take wood-fired pizza back to your vineyard, stay for quality time-out, share a generous graze-board of local cheeses and charcuterie, or treat the fam to fine-dining where the chef's signature style is carried over to the kids menu. Chocolate creations here are an art form, and don't even get us started on our infamous dessert bar!

A SOUVENIR OF YOUR STAY Pop into a weekend village market, our Visitors Centre, or any one of our gourmet pantries or gift shops for a treasure-trove of locally-made goodies to take home and enjoy, but the best thing you'll leave with, is great memories of your family adventures in the valley.

HERE'S TO MORE THAN A WEEKEND

Picture yourself relaxed and of good cheer, living the Hunter Valley good life to the full. Even a short stay will quickly have you feeling revitalised and right at home in the vineyard landscape.

Whether you're visiting for work, pleasure, or hoping to strike an ideal balance between the two, you can afford to be selective about what you want to experience, with so many wonderful accommodation options to choose from.

Imagine waking to an oasis of calm, and wild kangaroos, at your cosy cottage in the vines, or cracking a bottle of Semillon at a secluded wilderness cabin, high on the escarpment with a birds eye view of the valley.

Maybe you're more inclined to book a contemporary country home with all the creature comforts, and feel your shoulders relax with that first slurp of Shiraz grown on the private wine estate you're staying on.

Perhaps you're set on spoiling yourself with some mid-week pampering at a luxury spa resort, or treating someone to a romantic retreat, where there's some local sparkling on ice and an open log fire.

Are you angling to get out of town for a five star golfing getaway? Or thinking about shaking up your conferencing with greater destination appeal?

If arriving in style is important to you, private helicopter charters and limousine transfers can easily be found.

WINE AND FOOD TRAILS

Following a Wine & Food Trail through one of our seven sub regions is a rewarding way to make the most of the must-try wines and not-to-be-missed tasting experiences across the Hunter Valley.

Explore the heart of the Hunter Valley, Pokolbin, or take the road less travelled to the boutique wineries of Broke Fordwich. Cruise the winding roads of Lovedale, or cycle around picture-perfect Hermitage Road.

Weave your way up to the hilltops of Mount View, or follow in pioneering footsteps, down convict-built roads in Wollombi.

Whichever trail you take, the diversity of wine styles, grape varietals and growing methods will astound you.

POKOLBIN

Start at the very heart of Wine Country and savour some of the Valley's most iconic drops. A significant contingent of Australia's first families of wines have cellar doors here. Taste the old vine wines grown on ancient European root stocks dated back to the 1800s.

HERE'S TO THE GOOD LIFE IN POKOLBIN

- Relishing rare wines, Australian wine royalty or a paddle of coldies at a craft brewery
- Challenging yourself to the vineyard-fringed golf courses
- Pampering yourself with sparkling, spa treatments and bespoke retail therapy
- Immersing in 8 hectares of exotic flowers, grottos and themed gardens
- Falling under the temptation of smelly cheeses and bakery temptations.

AROUND HERMITAGE

A haven for boutique winemakers and brewers who'll share their heart for what they do while pouring you a glass. On cycleways and country lanes, you'll find yourself posting pretty-as-a-picture landscapes, everywhere you turn.

HERE'S TO THE GOOD LIFE IN AROUND HERMITAGE

- Working off long lunches by cycling between wineries
- Gathering around croquet, giant Jenga or chess on a vineyard
- Snapping and posting some of the Valley's most spectacular scenery
- Unique experiences at the D'Vine long weekend annual event
- Chatting with small batch producers and feeling more knowledgeable for the experience.

LOVEDALE

WINE VARIETIES

The Hunter Valley produces less than two per cent of Australia's wine, yet lays claim to some of the industry's oldest and most well-known winemaking families, and consistently produces an impressive, award-winning array of varieties and styles.

SEMILLON

The Hunter Valley sets the world benchmark for Semillon, and it is, both nationally and internationally, the most highly awarded variety produced in the region. In its youth, it is zesty, bright with lemon/lime aromas and flavours, and has a delicate acidity to finish – perfect for fresh seafood. Those who are prepared to wait are rewarded with complexity – biscuit, malt, honey and toasty richness.

CHARDONNAY

Typically medium to full-bodied in style, Hunter Valley Chardonnay is characterised by peach, fig and tropical fruit-like flavours with crisp and fresh unwooded styles, and full-bodied, rich and fulfilling wooded styles.

VERDELHO

A style unique to the Hunter Valley, Verdelho, customarily made without oak, is a fruit-driven medium-bodied wine.

SHIRAZ

Shiraz is undoubtedly the most important red variety in the Hunter Valley. Regionally distinctive, it is medium to full-bodied, characterised when young by blackberry, mulberry and plum characters, as well as spice, chocolate and liquorice with the characteristic regional earthy, leathery tones and complexity developing with age.

OTHER VARIETALS

Our hero wine icons – Semillon, Shiraz, Chardonnay and Verdelho are supported by up and coming European varieties such as Tempranillo, Sangiovese, Barbera, Montepulciano, Fiano and Vermentino which are thriving in the Hunter climate.

A number of specialty wines, including organic, sparkling, fortified and dessert wines, are also produced. No matter what your preference, you'll always find a style to share and enjoy in the Hunter Valley.

HUNTER VALLEY LEGENDS AWARDS

Sponsored by Wine Selectors, The Cellar Door of the Year award recognises excellence at a Hunter Valley Cellar Door.

As Winmark, Danish for "Field of Wines" celebrates the remarkable revival of the historic Poole's Rock Vineyard and restoration of the breathtaking 130-acre Hunter Valley property, under the watchful eye of Danish vigneron Karin Adcock. For half a century, the vineyard has grown exceptional fruit, with a proud history of producing highly acclaimed Chardonnay. In acknowledgement of this, Winmark Wines has devoted the entire estate to Chardonnay.

Recently named 2023 Hunter Valley Cellar Door of the Year, rated a 5-Star Winery and shortlisted for Best New Winery by the acclaimed James Halliday Wine Companion 2024, Winmark is not just a premium Chardonnay producer, it's a destination designed to connect guests with wine, architecture, art and nature. A wonderland of sculptures, perennial rose gardens, luxury accommodation and natural landmarks of historical significance. Winmark is a place of remarkable beauty and unexpected discovery.

Cellar Door, accommodation, art gallery, sculpture garden walk, gift shop and coffee cart.

VISITING CELLAR DOORS

Our cellar doors offer many experiences – wine tastings, food, tours, games for the kids and more. But one experience we don't encourage is wandering down our vine rows.

Our vines are the foundation of our wine story. You can help to keep our vines safe by not walking into the vineyard. Your shoes, clothing, tyres, vehicles and equipment can pick up and spread pests, diseases and weeds, which can kill or harm our vines.

There are many ways you can enjoy all that our wine regions offer without risking the health of our vines. When you arrive at a cellar door, chat to the staff about tours, experiences and activities available.
