SOUTHERN GREAT BARRIER REEF

📍 Lady Elliot Island

Discover the Southern Great Barrier Reef

A bucket list destination unlike any other, just a hop, skip and a jump from Bundaberg, Gladstone and Capricorn, its idyllic white sand beaches, pristine coral reefs, and warm blue waters provide the ideal setting to swim with the turtles and discover giant marine life. The Southern Great Barrier Reef is truly where great begins.

Lady Elliot Island

A quick 25-minute flight from the Bundaberg Airport, Lady Elliot Island is the first island on the Great Barrier Reef, and dare we say, one of the best islands. This coral cay is world renowned as the home of the manta ray with over 700 individual manta rays known to be living in the surrounding waters. Lady Elliot Island is also teeming with turtles who lazily swim these waters year-round and don't mind the curiosity of visitors. A selfie with a turtle is a must-do.

Lady Elliot Island offers eco-friendly accommodation, helping you sleep on the reef as long as you like keeping the above and below water locals safe and happy.

DID YOU KNOW? Sir David Attenborough first visited the Southern Great Barrier Reef in 1957, before Australian Tourism Award winning Lady Elliot Island Eco Resort was even established!

Lady Musgrave Island

3000 acres of living reef seemingly plucked from the pages of an aspirational travel guide, Lady Musgrave Island is one of the most magical places in the world.

Situated on the Southern Great Barrier Reef, Lady Musgrave Island is just a boat ride from Bundaberg with Lady Musgrave Experience, departing from Bundaberg Port Marina. The sun-soaked waters and effervescent coral reefs offer a surreal backdrop for an underwater experience that is like nothing on earth.

Teeming with bird life above the water, and giant marine life below the water, you can swim with the turtles, dive alongside the manta rays, dance with the dolphins and witness the whales play. Spend a day exploring this underwater playground or extend your stay and wake up to 360-degree views of vibrant blue waters with two unique accommodation options on Lady Musgrave HQ pontoon.

Lady Elliot Island offers 20 incredible dive sites, and all dives are escorted by the experienced Dive staff. The Resort offers a minimum of two dives per day and optional night dives.*

Lady Musgrave Experience offers access to remote and untouched dive sites within both the Bunker Group and Southern Capricorn Group of islands. The custom-built dive boat and pontoon allows for up to three dives per day and optional night dives within the lagoon for overnight guests.*

Ex-HMAS Tobruk

Since its scuttling in 2018, ex-HMAS Tobruk rests just off the coast of Bundaberg in the Great Sandy Marine Park. The ship is a unique wreck dive experience, with abundant marine life attaching to the metal surfaces.

Reef Within Reach

Snorkel Barolin Rocks dive site at Woongarra Marine Park, or explore the coral off the beach at Elliott Heads. Bundaberg is one of the only places along the Southern Great Barrier Reef where you can access reef without leaving the mainland.

The Great 8

When exploring the Southern Great Barrier Reef, spotting 'The Great Eight' is a must-do. While they live all along the Great Barrier Reef, the plankton-rich waters of the Southern Great Barrier Reef make spotting bigger marine life, like turtles and manta rays, a regular occurrence.

Whale Watching

Each year from July to November, the pristine waters off Bundaberg come alive with majestic southern humpback whales as thousands migrate north to mate and give birth.

The safe warm waters of the Great Barrier Reef are the ideal calving waters, as young calves bond with their mothers and learn essential survival skills.

Enjoy the cheeky antics of the curious juveniles, and feel the awe as mothers swim alongside their babies.

Enjoy a half-day whale watching experience from Bundaberg or listen for the sounds of whale song with an overnight stay or day trip on our Islands.

Turtles

Mon Repos, Barga

Welcome to Turtle Town

Every year, during November to March, Mon Repos beach becomes an abstract painting of turtle tracks as Mumma turtles haul themselves up the beach for nesting, and baby hatchlings begin the first steps of their journey as they scurry to meet the sea.

Witness A Miracle

Take an unrivalled peek behind the curtain of a natural wonder thousands of years in the making at Mon Repos Conservation Park. Home to the Mon Repos Turtle Encounter, watch as Mumma turtles lay their clutches of eggs from November – January on a ranger-guided tour.

In January – March form a tunnel of lights to the ocean for the baby turtles as they begin their journey into adolescence with only 1 in 1000 turtles making it to maturity.

Mon Repos Turtle Encounter is the only ranger-guided turtle encounter available on the East Coast and is instrumental to turtle research and conservation.

Swim With The Turtles

Seeing the turtles nest and hatch can cause a severe case of turtle-fever. The only known cure? To venture out to our Islands on the Southern Great Barrier Reef and swim with the turtles.

The waters off Lady Musgrave Island and Lady Elliot Island are home to turtles year-round including the endangered loggerhead turtle, green sea turtle and the flatback turtle, all which nest and hatch on Mon Repos Beach.

Swimming with the turtles is a rite of passage, and a bucket list item you can tick off right here in region.

Turtle Conservation

Turtle research and conservation is paramount in saving these peaceful, ancient creatures. Visitors can witness conservation first-hand at the Mon Repos Turtle Encounter during turtle season, as every turtle that comes up to lay are measured, their tags recorded, and eggs counted.

The interactive Mon Repos Turtle Centre also shares insight about the special journey turtles and people have taken at Mon Repos, and can be visited year round.

DID YOU KNOW? The local Indigenous word for turtle is "milbi". Discover where culture and turtles combine at the Milbi Cafe nestled inside the Mon Repos Turtle Centre.
