Uluru-Kata Tjuta National Park

Palya!

Welcome to Anangu land

Some tips for staying safe:

- Use an Emergency Call Device (ECD) to contact rangers during park opening times.
- Carry and drink one litre of water per hour in small regular portions.
- Eat plenty of healthy snacks, and consider an electrolyte product (such as Hydralyte or Gastrolite) to replace lost fluids.
- Wear sturdy, appropriate footwear.
- Wear sun protection – a hat with a secure strap, a shirt, and sunscreen.
- There is a Risk of heat exhaustion, dehydration, and hyponatraemia (low blood salts). In hot weather, finish walks by 11.00 am.
- Obey all safety directions, notices, and warning signs.
- Consider your health and fitness when choosing an activity.
- Stay on marked tracks and roads at all times.
- Consider the park closing time. You will need to leave the Kata Tjuta area 45 minutes before the park closes. See closing times overleaf.

RESPECTING CULTURE THROUGH FILM PHOTOGRAPHY AND ART

There are some important sensitive areas around the base of Uluru and throughout Kata Tjuta. The rock details and features at these sites describe culturally important information and must only be viewed in their original location.

For this reason, we request that you enjoy the scenery but do not take photographs, film or replicate sensitive sites. In these areas, you are welcome to photograph flora, fauna and people while avoiding capturing any rock formations.

If you wish to use images, videos or artwork of the park for commercial or public purposes (including content creators & influencers) you will need to apply for a media permit.
