This was an era when athletes were mostly amateur, and a good bloke, like John Forbes, could make a big difference to sport by just being generous and committed. John Forbes OAM KStJ, a local Mitiamo man, loved nothing more than a good yarn and making a new mate. He had a diverse career, from being local sheep farmer to being National Promotions Manager at PUMA Australia for 22 years from 1985. In his role at PUMA, John amassed a massive sports memorabilia collection which mainly consists of personalised mementoes of his encounters with famous (and not yet so famous) sports people. John's mementoes of his time at PUMA make up the core of this display, but we also share artefacts from other Australian and local sporting stories. In our theatre John shares key stories from his time at PUMA including the one about Merv's Hughes' moustache. Entry is $5.00 per person (over 18's). Pacdon Park Factory Store

Pacdon Park is a Free Range British Butchery "Making what we Miss" In 2006 Jim Arrowsmith and Pete Tonge, both from Chorley in Lancashire, were backpacking around Australia, but couldn't find a decent pork pie, 'for love nor money' so decided to make them themselves, and so the business was born. They built their first factory on a pig farm named Pacdon Park in Bunnaloo, rural NSW, converting a derelict dairy shed into a commercial kitchen. These days Pacdon Park has relocated to a beautiful vineyard on the banks of the Mighty Murray River near the twin towns of Echuca (Victoria) Moama (NSW). Our ethos is still the same as when we started, to 'make what we miss'. We use the whole Free Range Pig, sourced from several small farms in our local area. From that great pork we make our whole British 'style' range, using local ingredients, time and tested traditional methods with nothing unnecessary.

Pacdon Park Factory Store will be open Monday to Friday 9am-4pm during the school holidays. Pacdon Park Factory Store is located at 464 Perricoota Road, Moama. Contact: 03-54809645
