

Warren River Walks

Lorikeet Stroll

200m return

As you explore this karri forest, you may spot a purple crowned lorikeet. They dart through the karri canopy and feed on the blossoms. You may identify them by their continuous and rapid shrill calls that can be almost deafening.

Warren River Loop Walk

10.5km return

This walk trail can be walked in either direction. The Warren River Valley has some steep sections which reveal superb views over the Warren River.

For your safety

- Avoid walking under trees on windy days
- Be sun smart and carry drinking water for longer sections
- Wear sturdy footwear and appropriate clothing

Leave No Trace

- Carry out all rubbish with you
- Take only pictures, leaving only footprints

Department of
Environment and Conservation

Warren River Loop Walk

Warren River Loop Walk 10.5km return

This walk trail can be walked in either direction. The Warren River Valley has some steep sections which the track winds its way through, revealing superb views over the Warren River and surrounding landscapes.

This karri forest includes old growth forest and an abundance of wildlife such as birds and insects.

In springtime the carpet of wildflowers typifies the diversity of plants that grow in these pristine areas of the Warren National Park.

For your safety

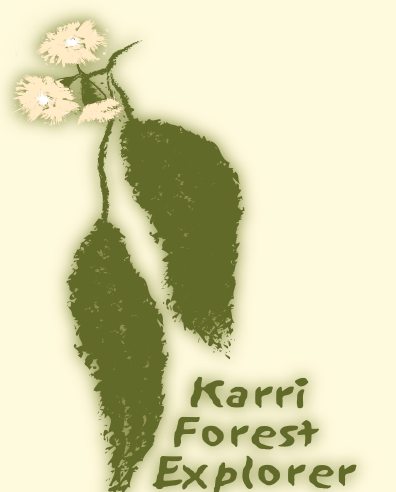

- Avoid walking under trees on windy days
- Be sun smart and carry drinking water for longer sections
- Wear sturdy footwear and appropriate clothing

Leave No Trace

- Carry out all rubbish with you
- Take only pictures, leaving only footprints

Department of
Environment and Conservation

Warren River Loop Walk

Warren River Loop Walk 10.5km return

This walk trail can be walked in either direction. The Warren River Valley has some steep sections which the track winds its way through, revealing superb views over the Warren River and surrounding landscapes.

This karri forest includes old growth forest and an abundance of wildlife such as birds and insects.

In springtime the carpet of wildflowers typifies the diversity of plants that grow in these pristine areas of the Warren National Park.

For your safety

- Avoid walking under trees on windy days
- Be sun smart and carry drinking water for longer sections
- Wear sturdy footwear and appropriate clothing

Leave No Trace

- Carry out all rubbish with you
- Take only pictures, leaving only footprints

Department of
Environment and Conservation

Warren River Loop Walk

Warren River Loop Walk 10.5km return

This walk trail can be walked in either direction. The Warren River Valley has some steep sections which the track winds its way through, revealing superb views over the Warren River and surrounding landscapes.

This karri forest includes old growth forest and an abundance of wildlife such as birds and insects.

In springtime the carpet of wildflowers typifies the diversity of plants that grow in these pristine areas of the Warren National Park.

For your safety

- Avoid walking under trees on windy days
- Be sun smart and carry drinking water for longer sections
- Wear sturdy footwear and appropriate clothing

Leave No Trace

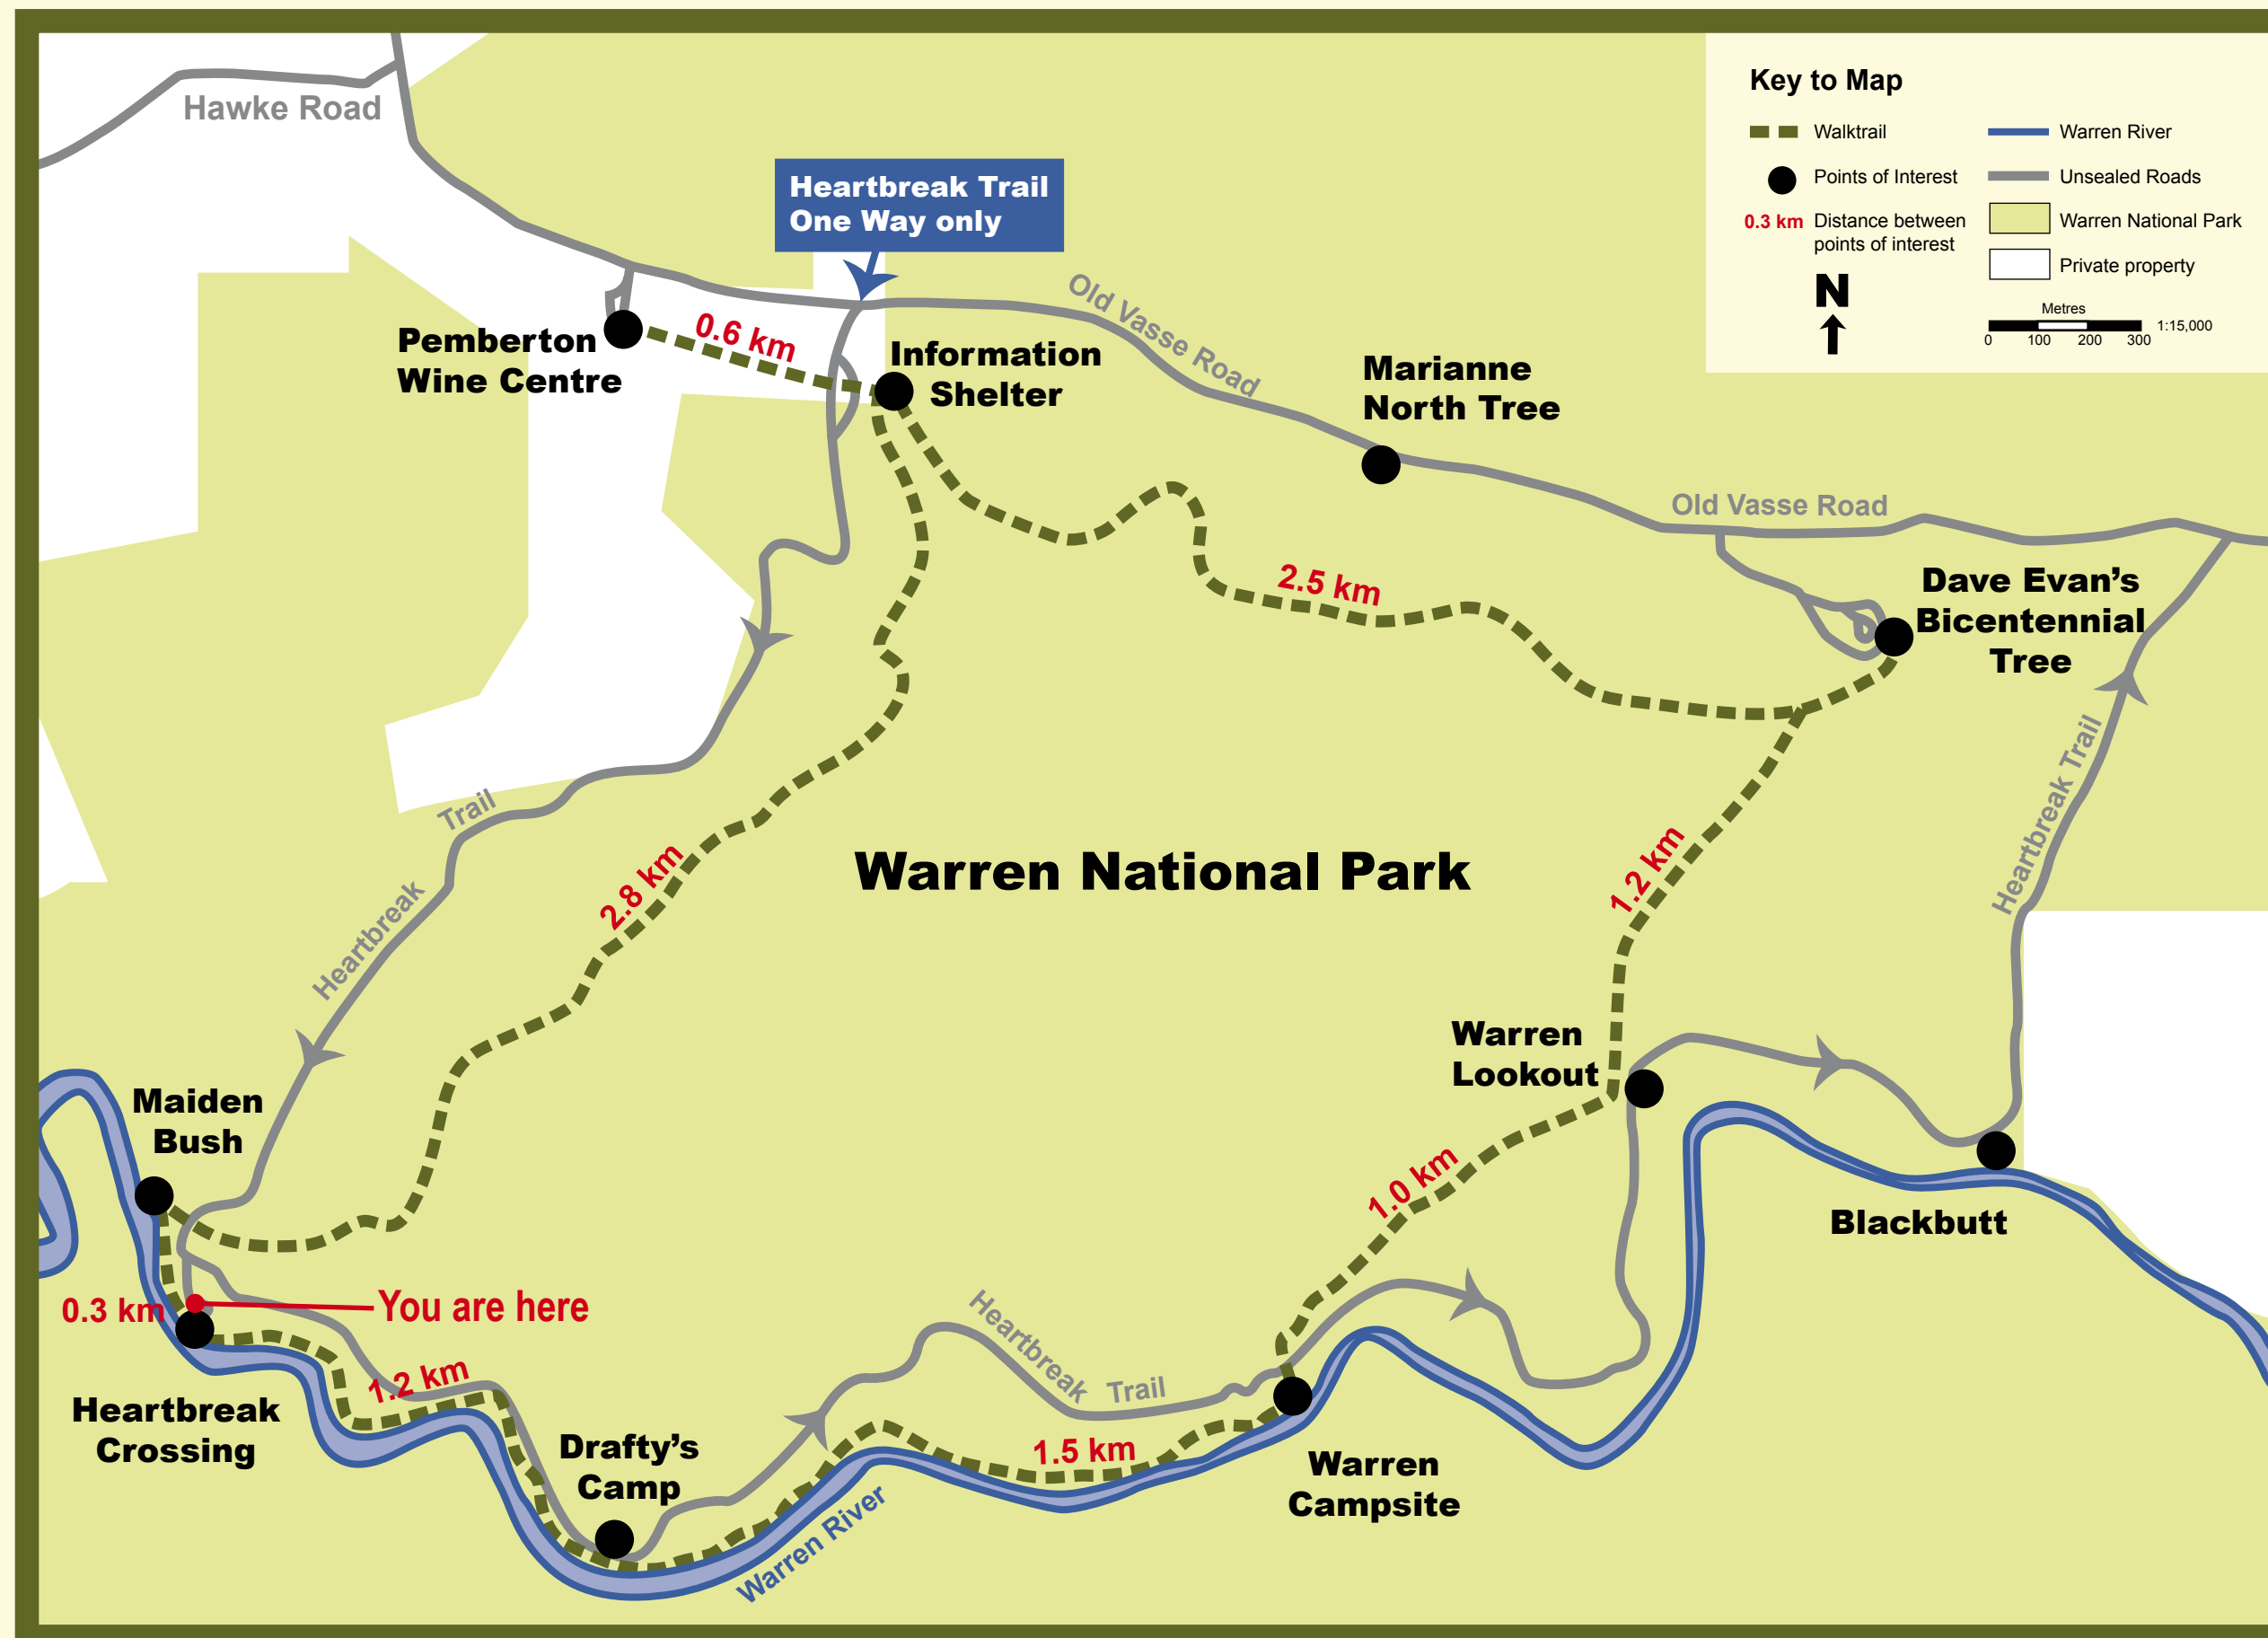

- Carry out all rubbish with you
- Take only pictures, leaving only footprints

Department of
Environment and Conservation

Warren River Loop Walk

Warren River Loop Walk 10.5km return

This walk trail can be walked in either direction. The Warren River Valley has some steep sections which the track winds its way through, revealing superb views over the Warren River and surrounding landscapes.

This karri forest includes old growth forest and an abundance of wildlife such as birds and insects.

In springtime the carpet of wildflowers typifies the diversity of plants that grow in these pristine areas of the Warren National Park.

For your safety

- Avoid walking under trees on windy days
- Be sun smart and carry drinking water for longer sections
- Wear sturdy footwear and appropriate clothing

Leave No Trace

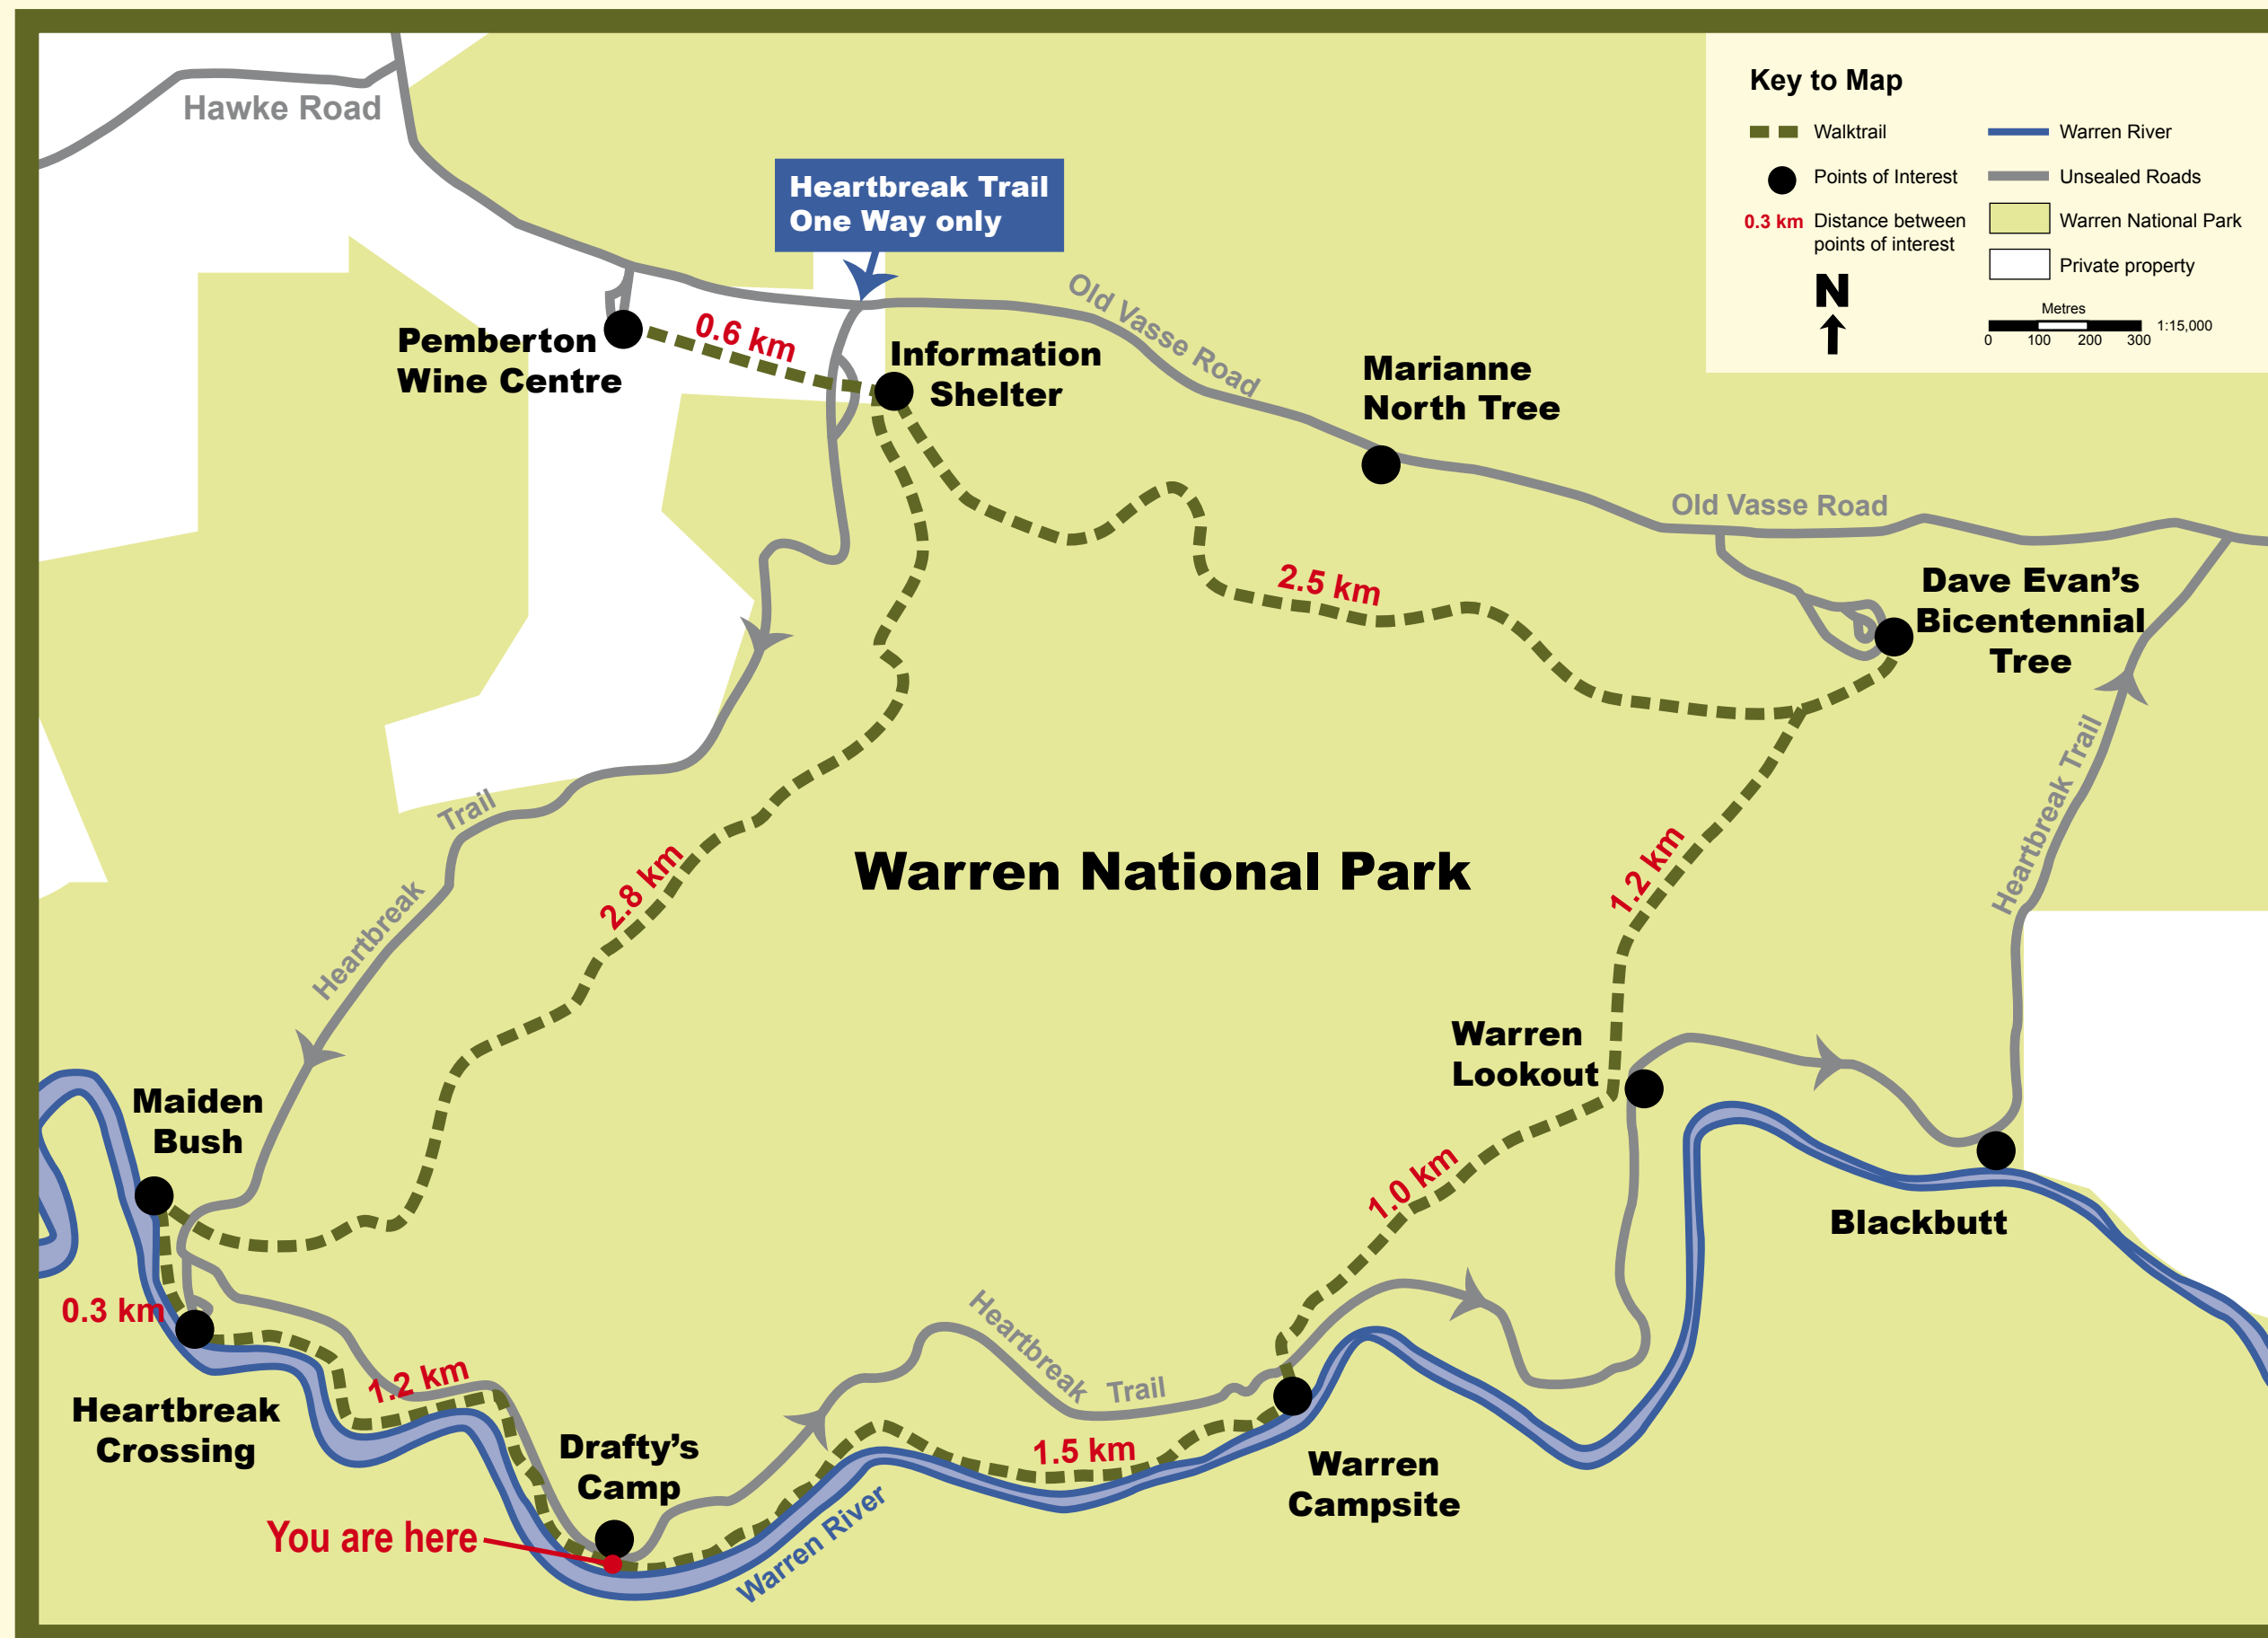

- Carry out all rubbish with you
- Take only pictures, leaving only footprints

Department of
Environment and Conservation

Warren River Loop Walk

Warren River Loop Walk 10.5km return

This walk trail can be walked in either direction. The Warren River Valley has some steep sections which the track winds its way through, revealing superb views over the Warren River and surrounding landscapes.

This karri forest includes old growth forest and an abundance of wildlife such as birds and insects.

In springtime the carpet of wildflowers typifies the diversity of plants that grow in these pristine areas of the Warren National Park.

For your safety

- Avoid walking under trees on windy days
- Be sun smart and carry drinking water for longer sections
- Wear sturdy footwear and appropriate clothing

Leave No Trace

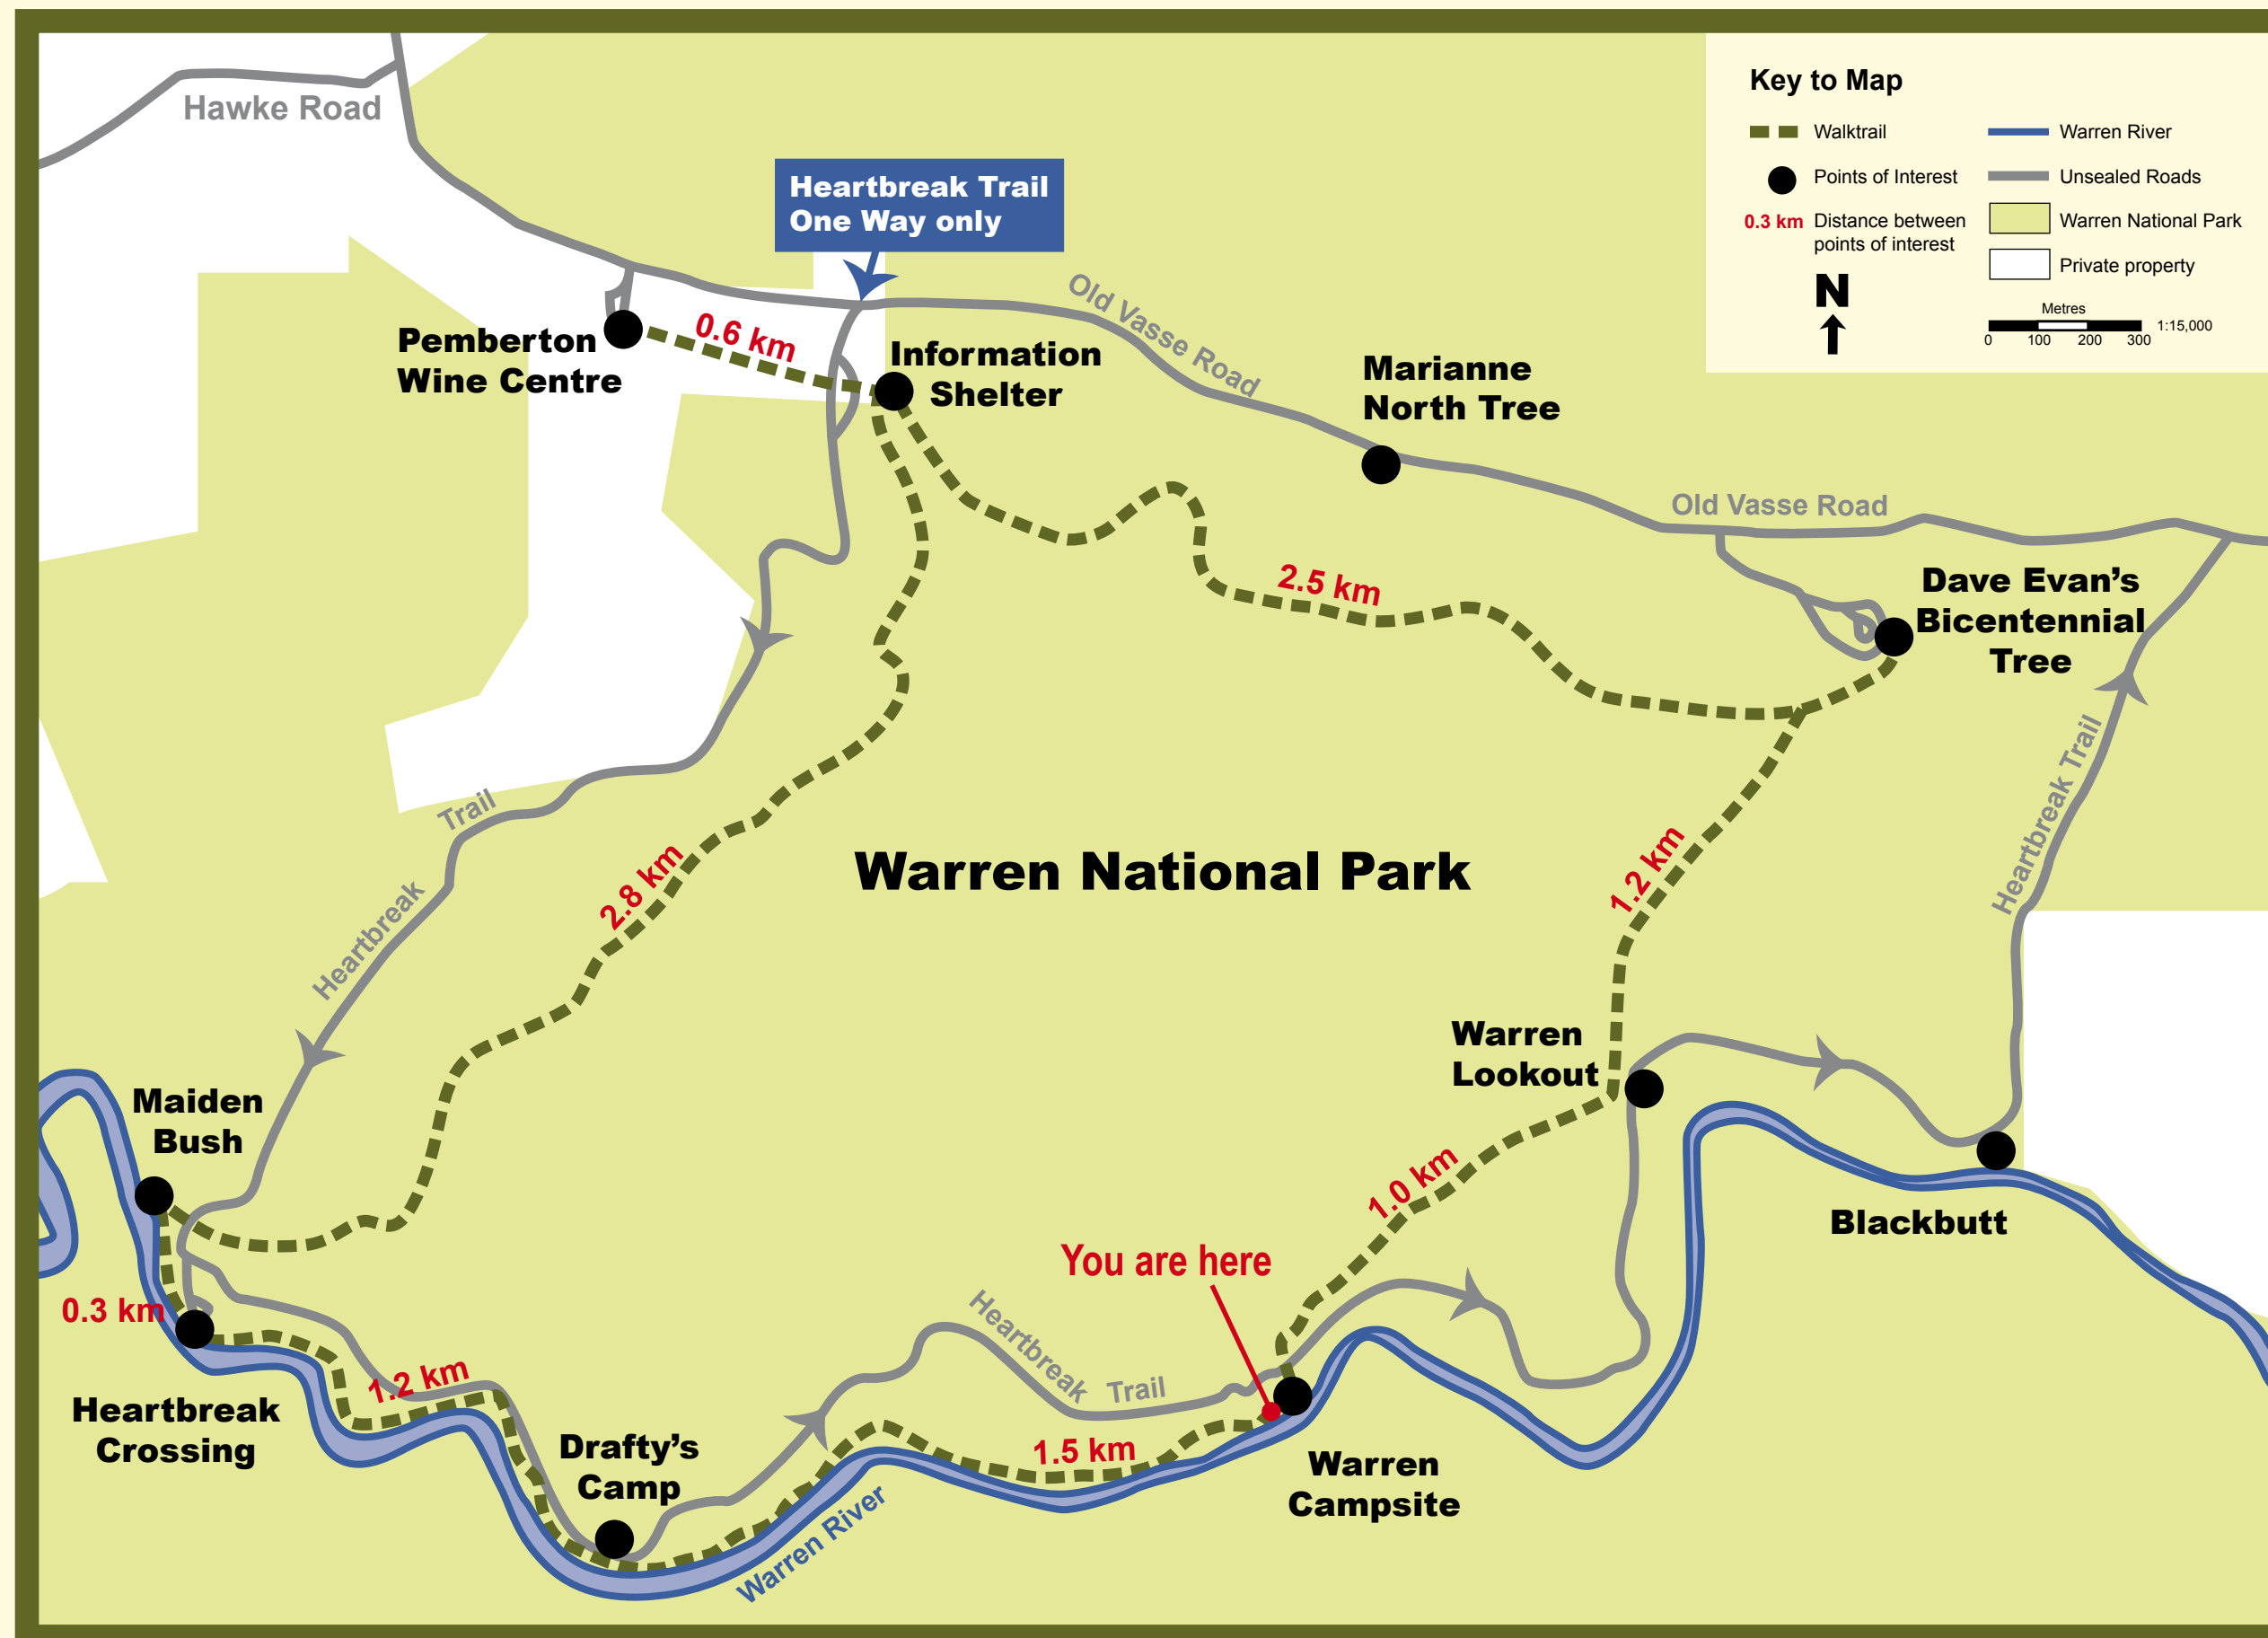

- Carry out all rubbish with you
- Take only pictures, leaving only footprints

Department of
Environment and Conservation

Warren River Loop Walk

Warren River Loop Walk 10.5km return

This walk trail can be walked in either direction. The Warren River Valley has some steep sections which the track winds its way through, revealing superb views over the Warren River and surrounding landscapes.

This karri forest includes old growth forest and an abundance of wildlife such as birds and insects.

In springtime the carpet of wildflowers typifies the diversity of plants that grow in these pristine areas of the Warren National Park.

For your safety

- Avoid walking under trees on windy days
- Be sun smart and carry drinking water for longer sections
- Wear sturdy footwear and appropriate clothing

Leave No Trace

- Carry out all rubbish with you
- Take only pictures, leaving only footprints

Department of
Environment and Conservation

Warren River Loop Walk

Warren River Loop Walk 10.5km return

This walk trail can be walked in either direction. The Warren River Valley has some steep sections which the track winds its way through, revealing superb views over the Warren River and surrounding landscapes.

This karri forest includes old growth forest and an abundance of wildlife such as birds and insects.

In springtime the carpet of wildflowers typifies the diversity of plants that grow in these pristine areas of the Warren National Park.

For your safety

- Avoid walking under trees on windy days
- Be sun smart and carry drinking water for longer sections
- Wear sturdy footwear and appropriate clothing

Leave No Trace

- Carry out all rubbish with you
- Take only pictures, leaving only footprints

Department of
Environment and Conservation

Warren River Loop Walk

Warren River Loop Walk 10.5km return

This walk trail can be walked in either direction. The Warren River Valley has some steep sections which the track winds its way through, revealing superb views over the Warren River and surrounding landscapes.

This karri forest includes old growth forest and an abundance of wildlife such as birds and insects.

In springtime the carpet of wildflowers typifies the diversity of plants that grow in these pristine areas of the Warren National Park.

For your safety

- Avoid walking under trees on windy days
- Be sun smart and carry drinking water for longer sections
- Wear sturdy footwear and appropriate clothing

Leave No Trace

- Carry out all rubbish with you
- Take only pictures, leaving only footprints

Department of
Environment and Conservation

