WELCOME TO wine country

When you need to breathe, trade the traffic for our winding rural drives that connect the cellar doors of Australian wine icons and boutique producers with a personal touch. Relax into the magic of ancient Shiraz and internationally coveted Semillon vines, stretching as far as the eye can see from a hot air balloon drifting at dawn, shadowed by the Brokenback range.

Where freedom feels like live music under endless skies, the tee-off to a championship green, and being swept-up in the thrill of vintage.

Forage artisan markets and farmgates and spice-up your culinary skills in fun sessions with local chefs.

Stay a while, in resort luxury or a charming self-contained escape and know for yourself why so many of Australia's first families of wine, and compelling young producers, call Hunter Valley Wine Country home.

The accredited Hunter Valley Visitor Information Centre is the premier destination to meet visitor needs.

Open seven days a week, the friendly and knowledgeable staff are available to assist in creating the perfect visitor itinerary and help with bookings for accommodation, dining, tours, attractions, cellar doors and experiences.

HERE'S TO coming together

From vineyard concerts and wine masterclasses to market days and festivals, the region serves up events for every kind of traveller.

SPRING

The region wakes up with budburst, wine shows, long lunches, fresh produce markets, and garden tours in full bloom. Ideal for music lovers, couples and those chasing warmer days and long afternoons.

SUMMER

Peak season brings twilight concerts in the vines, outdoor cinema nights, vintage celebrations, and Australia's biggest Christmas light display - a hit with families and holidaymakers.

AUTUMN

Think grape stomping, barrel tastings, cooking classes, and paddock-to-plate lunches with the region busy with hands - on experiences. Perfect for food and wine fans who want to dive a little deeper.

WINTER

Slow things down with fireside wine tastings, degustation dinners and cosy cellar door events. Family-friendly winter festivals, arts and culture events, and weekend escapes round out the cooler months.

Two hours from Sydney, the landscape begins to slow.

High above the Hunter Valley, Mount View Estate offers a quieter kind of escape — where cool mountain air, old vines, and open skies shape the rhythm of each stay.

Mornings begin before sunrise, drifting gently above the valley floor in Australia's largest fleet of hot air balloons, before returning for breakfast overlooking rolling vineyards and distant mountain ranges.

At the cellar door, discover our award-winning wines, crafted from old vines and shaped by the unique elevation and character of Mount View. As the sun sets behind the Broken Back Range, retreat to boutique vineyard accommodation designed for stillness, comfort, and long evenings shared over wine.

Whether you come to celebrate, reconnect, or simply slow down, Mount View Estate invites you to experience Hunter Valley from a different perspective.

Tulloch has been crafting wines and family-friendly experiences that reach beyond the bottle for over 130 years, creating better lives with wine, food, family and friends. Visit our Pokolbin Cellar Door and discover wine, your way.

2026 HALLIDAY WINE COMPANION
TOP 5 STAR
WINERY

Inspired by place

Specialising in Premium Single Vineyard Semillon & Shiraz from the Hunter Valley. Thomas Wines is one of the region's most renowned wineries and is nationally and internationally recognised for exceptional single vineyard wines.

Thomas Wines is led by Andrew Thomas and his eldest son, Dan Thomas. The first Thomas Wines vintage was produced in 1997, with a clear focus to specialise in producing top shelf examples of the two signature varieties of the Hunter Valley. Nearly three decades on and countless awards later, this remains the core focus.

From the vineyards of the Hunter Valley, the skilled pair of winemakers consistently produce vintages that have captured the attention and acclaim of industry experts and enthusiasts alike.

Each wine is destined to showcase its unique vineyard signature and express a real sense of place. The key to great wine is 'keeping it simple' to preserve that potential quality from the vine to the bottle. From this philosophy stems an impressive range of modern benchmarks for the Hunter Valley.

Picture yourself relaxed and living the Hunter Valley good life to the full. Even a short stay will quickly have you feeling revitalised and right at home in the vineyard landscape.

There's an option for every version of escape. A self-contained cottage tucked into the vines, where mornings arrive with hot air balloons drifting through the sky and kangaroos outside the window. A hillside cabin with an escarpment view and nothing pressing to do but open a Semillon. A private wine estate where the Shiraz in your glass was grown on the property you're sleeping on. Perhaps you're set on spoiling yourself with some mid-week pampering at a luxury spa resort, a five-star golf retreat or a place the whole family can enjoy. Treat someone to a romantic getaway, where there's some local sparkling on ice and an open log fire.

Whether you're visiting for work, pleasure, or hoping to strike an ideal balance between the two, you can afford to be selective about what you want to experience, with so many wonderful accommodation options to choose from.

Wherever you stay, you'll be surrounded by award-winning cellar doors, extraordinary restaurants, vibrant cafés and brilliant craft breweries. Expect to be lavished with hospitality, because it's what the Hunter Valley does best.

WINE HOUSE
HUNTER VALLEY

Brokenwood Wines, Halliday Winery of the Year 2026 - pictured Winemakers Stuart Hordern & Kate Sturgess

The Hunter Valley's enviable heritage of trailblazing viticulturists, winemaking dynasties and iconic wines, is where great Australian grape growing and winemaking all began. The valley's first small vineyard plots of about 20 acres were planted on the Northern banks of the Hunter River trade route in the early 1820s. Australia's first families of wine soon branched out into the surrounding hill country with more than 500 acres of vines and by the roaring '20s, had become the bastion of premium wine production.

Nearly 200 years down that winding country road and the pioneering spirit of Hunter Valley Wine Country lives on in an unrivalled class of skilled viticulturists and their winemaking counterparts who are unafraid of pushing boundaries to achieve distinctive wines that are rich in character and regional authenticity, vintage after vintage.

To this day, a handful of Hunter Valley estates are privileged to still produce sublime wines from 11 historic blocks of the original plantings, on ancient European root stocks that came over with the First Fleet. These vineyards are all the more rare for having remained unscathed by an outbreak of phylloxera in the late 1800s which decimated 70% of Europe's vineyards, making the vines some of the oldest in the world. You can find these prized Shiraz, Semillon and Chardonnay vineyards across the Valley.

The more you discover about Hunter Valley wine, the more you'll appreciate our torchbearers' legacy of great Australian winemaking, in every satisfying glass of Hunter Valley wine.

Aaron Mercer, Rising Star of the Year 2026, The Real Review

Liz Silkman, Hunter Valley Winemaker of the Year 2025

The Hunter Valley is the trailblazer of Australia's grape growing and winemaking industry which started almost 200 years ago.

Here in the Hunter Valley, we don't make wines en masse. We value quality and character over volume and it shines through in the many extraordinary wines unique to our region. Awarded by the world's top wine judges and enjoyed by wine lovers across the world, our iconic Semillon is the world's best. There's no denying our highly prized old-vine Shiraz has set an enduring benchmark for quality Australian wines and we lay claim to being the birthplace of Chardonnay. The trailblazer of Australia's grape growing and winemaking industry for almost 200 years, Hunter Valley Wine Country has cultivated its own, distinctive pedigree of hand-crafted wine styles, and thanks to the rise of a dynamic new generation of producers, the region's heart continues to beat for adventurous winemaking that inspires and delights.

Wine tasting in the Hunter Valley is a voyage of personal discovery. With as many as 30 different varietals to be explored, at cellar doors in Pokolbin, Lovedale, Mount View, Hermitage Road, Broke Fordwich and Upper Hunter, the real fun is finding out what's gone into making the wine that peaks your interest. Local vineyards tend to be small to medium producers, so when you can't decide what you like most about a wine, you'll have the opportunity to ask the winemaker first-hand, at many of the cellar doors.

Is a wild yeast ferment the secret to that Chardonnay you're crazy about? Is that French or American oak tickling your palate? Has a particular patch of soil had a bearing on the heavenly aroma emanating from that glass you're swirling? Expect to feel inspired by wonderfully individual wine-making methods and our absolute passion for provenance.

On the hunt for a wine to get dinner conversation going? Choose from dozens of character-laden Mediterranean reds, like Tempranillo, Barbera or Sangiovese, zesty whites like Vermentino or Albariño, or a clean Verdelho.

Looking to cellar some wines? Classic Hunter Semillon, Shiraz and Chardonnay styles are impeccably made to age well and be enjoyed as fully matured wines. Intrigued by the new wave of wines? Track down our young talent for the magic of boundary-pushing blends, spritz-like wildcards, unfined textures and unbridled creativity.

Bring the Hunter Valley home with Wine Selectors

THE HUNTER VALLEY IS TOO RICH TO EXPERIENCE IN ONE VISIT. KEEP THE ADVENTURE ALIVE WITH EXPERTLY CURATED WINES FROM WINE SELECTORS.

The moment you turn off the Pacific Highway and roll into Australia's original wine country, you know you've arrived somewhere special. Maybe it's the sense of history woven through the labyrinth of vineyards, the diversity of styles that can surprise even seasoned wine lovers, or simply the quiet perfume in the air, carrying the secrets of vines tended with care over generations.

With more than 150 wineries, the Hunter Valley is home to some of Australia's most passionate winemakers and a remarkable range of styles. Each cellar door offers a different perspective — from iconic, age-worthy Semillon to expressive Shiraz, from small-batch experimental releases to time-honoured classics, perfected across generations.

That's part of the region's undeniable charm. You can arrive with a list and follow recommendations, yet no matter how you explore, you leave with the quiet realisation that there is always more to discover, and one visit is never enough.

Even repeat visitors will find there are always wines left untasted, stories left unheard, and producers waiting to be discovered.

And that's exactly where Wine Selectors steps in.

A JOURNEY THAT DOESN'T END WHEN YOU LEAVE

Wine Selectors was founded on a simple philosophy: great Australian wine experiences shouldn't end at the cellar door. For more than 50 years, they've brought the country's finest wine regions to the table, curating wines that reflect their true character. Today, a community of over 200,000 Members stands as a testament to their passion and expertise.

Their connection to the Hunter Valley runs especially deep. Originating in the region and evolving from the Hunter Valley Wine Society, which focused on bringing the best of Hunter wines to the rest of the country, Wine Selectors has today grown into a nationwide institution, yet their roots remain firmly planted in the Hunter. Few know the nuances, history, and character of the region as well as they do.

Wine Selectors' Tasting Panel includes some of Australia's most respected judges, winemakers, sommeliers, and educators. They understand that the Hunter's greatness lies in its diversity. Beyond the main roads and marquee labels, they seek out small family vineyards, bold new producers, and timeless estates that together define the region's unique identity.

TASTE THE HUNTER'S FINEST, HANDPICKED BY EXPERTS

A Hunter Valley Wine Subscription from Wine Selectors offers an unparalleled way to explore the ever-evolving story of the region. It provides something even the most meticulously planned trip cannot: the chance to enjoy the finest wines of the Hunter Valley from the comfort of your home, anytime you want.

Each collection is thoughtfully curated by the Tasting Panel, bringing together a selection of producers and styles, including beloved classics and new discoveries. The result is a richer, more rewarding experience of the Hunter Valley – a region defined not by a single style but by a mosaic of producers, philosophies, and expressions.

Nothing, of course, replaces the magic of being there in person and experiencing the rolling landscape and warmth of the people. But with Wine Selectors, opening a bottle at home becomes more than a moment. It is a extension of the journey begun in the vineyards: a reminder of a cellar-door conversation, a chance to savour wines that capture the depth and diversity of the Hunter Valley, and a way to stay connected to a region that always has more to offer.

BEGIN YOUR NEXT CHAPTER

So come to the Hunter Valley. Walk among the vines, meet the makers, and indulge in the wines that have made this region a cornerstone of Australian wine culture. But don't let the experience end there. Continue it at home – with a curated Hunter Valley wine subscription from Wine Selectors, delivered to your door and curated to reflect the diversity and discovery that make the region so special.

Because while your Hunter adventure may start among the vines, it truly continues in the glass with Wine Selectors.

WINE VARIETIES

The Hunter Valley produces less than two per cent of Australia's wine, yet lays claim to some of the industry's oldest and most well-known winemaking families, and consistently produces an impressive, award-winning array of varieties and styles.

SEMILLON

The Hunter Valley sets the world benchmark for Semillon, and it is, both nationally and internationally, the most highly awarded variety produced in the region. In its youth, it is zesty, bright with lemon/lime aromas and flavours, and has a delicate acidity to finish – perfect for fresh seafood. Those who are prepared to wait are rewarded with complexity – biscuit, malt, honey and toasty richness.

CHARDONNAY

Typically medium to full-bodied in style, Hunter Valley Chardonnay is characterised by peach, fig and tropical fruit-like flavours with crisp and fresh unwooded styles, and full-bodied, rich and fulfilling wooded styles.

VERDELHO

A style unique to the Hunter Valley, Verdelho, customarily made without oak, is a fruit-driven medium-bodied wine.

SHIRAZ

Shiraz is undoubtedly the most important red variety in the Hunter Valley. Regionally distinctive, it is medium to full-bodied, characterised when young by blackberry, mulberry and plum notes, as well as spice, chocolate and liquorice with the regional earthy, leathery tones and complexity developing with age.

OTHER VARIETALS

Our hero wine icons – Semillon, Shiraz, Chardonnay and Verdelho are supported by up and coming European varieties such as Tempranillo, Sangiovese, Barbera, Montepulciano, Fiano and Vermentino which are thriving in the Hunter climate.

A number of specialty wines, including organic, sparkling, fortified and dessert wines, are also produced. No matter what your preference, you'll always find a style to share and enjoy in the Hunter Valley.

2025 CELLAR DOOR OF THE YEAR

HUNTER VALLEY LEGENDS AWARDS

Sponsored by Wine Selectors, The Cellar Door of the Year award recognises excellence at a Hunter Valley Cellar Door.

As a passion project that has evolved into one of Australia's most respected wine labels, Brokenwood Wines is a true example of commitment to excellence. Since their beginning in 1970, they have been one of the leading 5-star Hunter Valley wineries, sourcing premium fruit from 'all the right regions, for all the right reasons'.

That pursuit has been recognised time and again, with Brokenwood proudly awarded Hunter Valley Cellar Door of the Year for the third time, and named Winery of the Year in the 2026 Halliday Wine Companion. These accolades reflect not only the quality of the wines, but also a dedication to exceptional hospitality and thoughtfully curated tasting experiences.

At its heart, Brokenwood is guided by a simple philosophy: enjoy great wine and have fun. From the circular tasting pods to the outdoor Terrace Wine Bar and The Wood Restaurant, every element of the Cellar Door brings this to life. Whether you're a seasoned wine lover or just beginning your journey, Brokenwood offers a true taste of the Hunter Valley, and a place you'll want to return to.

VISITING CELLAR DOORS

Our cellar doors offer many experiences – wine tastings, food, tours, games for the kids and more. But one experience we don't encourage is wandering down our vine rows.

Our vines are the foundation of our wine story. You can help to keep our vines safe by not walking into the vineyard. Your shoes, clothing, tyres, vehicles and equipment can pick up and spread pests, diseases and weeds, which can kill or harm our vines.

There are many ways you can enjoy all that our wine regions offer without risking the health of our vines. When you arrive at a cellar door, chat to the staff about tours, experiences and activities available.

HERE'S TO great taste

Your food-loving heart will fall hard for the Hunter Valley.

Chefs with diverse culinary roots, passionate food artisans and producers who genuinely love what they do have made the Hunter Valley one of Australia's great regional food destinations. So prime your appetite, because there's serious feasting to be done.

We're talking flame-grilling over fire-pits, sophisticated food and wine pairings, long table lunches, restaurant veggie patches ripe for picking, and chef sessions to supercharge your home cooking. Graze through local cheesemakers, chocolatiers and smokehouses, sneak in a glass of sparkling with breakfast, and prepare to be completely undone by a dessert menu you'll have no hope of narrowing down.

The menus here follow the growing season, so there's always something fresh to discover. Taste the difference in locally farmed produce that our passionate food community loves to share. And if you want to take the experience further, culinary classes in cheesemaking, Italian cuisine and more run throughout the year, with a glass of Hunter Valley wine never far away.

world-class cuisine

The Hunter Valley table is set long before you arrive. Talented chefs who know this land, its seasons and its producers have been building something remarkable and what reaches your plate reflects that care at every turn.

Choose from hatted restaurants or find your way to a sun-drenched terrace overlooking the vines, where a long lunch earns its name.

It starts with what's grown here. Crisp seasonal vegetables, artisan cheese, house-smoked charcuterie, and produce pulled from kitchen gardens that morning. The growing season shapes the menu, so every visit tastes a little different from the last.

Settle in. Order a share plate. Let someone refill your glass with a Hunter Valley wine and enjoy regional food culture at its best.

GOURMET

feast on local produce

Chasing down must-try tastings? Put our gourmet artisans into your GPS for food finds unique to the Hunter Valley that are every bit as true to regional character as our premium wines. Local farming families have for decades harvested ripe and delicious figs, citrus and avocadoes, still eagerly sought for the larders of our best chefs, and sold from the farmgate.

The olive groves of boutique growers thrive in our Mediterranean-like climate. Immensely proud of their fragrant and fruity extra virgin oil, they'll tempt you with salad-transforming flavour-infused varieties, barrel aged vinegars, tapenades and moreish marinated olives.

Delectably creamy, small-dairy cheeses abound, and you can peek behind the scenes to see some of Australia's most skilled soft cheese makers in action. For picnic-ready pâté and house-cured charcuterie, head straight to the smokehouse.

Almost-too-pretty-to-eat pastries, luscious preserves, raw honey, crackly-crusted heirloom-starter sourdough, chocolate bark laced with native flavours and intricately hand painted bonbons are all part of the local gourmet landscape.

If you're sold on the idea that everything tastes better on tap, our independent brewers have you covered. You can quench your thirst on a range of beers and ciders. Some of our breweries also offer brewery tours, live music and snacks to go with your schooner or tasting paddle of freshly made ale.

HERE'S TO you time

TO THE UNEXPECTED MOMENTS, THE SLOW DAYS, AND THE MEMORIES YOU'LL WANT TO RECREATE AGAIN AND AGAIN

The Hunter Valley is the kind of place that gives you permission to do exactly what you feel like. However you want to spend your time here, the region has it covered.

SIP AND SAVOUR

The food and wine scene is the heart of it, and a local guide who knows the back roads and the best drops will make it even better. Let someone else do the navigating while you focus on the glass in front of you and the view behind it.

GET OUTDOORS

Cycle past rows of vines, drift above the valley in a hot air balloon at sunrise, ride through open countryside or tee off at a world-class golf course. For something on foot, Mount Bright, Bimbadeen and Pokolbin Mountains Road are all worth the effort. Chase adventure tracing heritage stock routes by segway or simply find a picnic spot and stay there longer than you planned.

EXPLORE THE HISTORY AND CULTURE

The Hunter Valley's story goes back a long way. Ancient rock engravings at Biame Cave, the convict-built Circuit Flat Bridge at Wollombi, and sixty striking murals at Kurri Kurri all tell it in different ways. The Singleton Arts and Cultural Centre is worth exploring, and the annual Sculpture Festival at Wollombi draws visitors from well beyond the region. Gallery visits, culture walks and art classes are scattered throughout the valley for those who want to go deeper.

RELAX AND RECHARGE

There's a pace to the Hunter that's easy to settle into. A spa or dedicated wellness retreat. A glass of something good by the fire. An afternoon with nothing scheduled and no guilt about it.

BROWSE AND DISCOVER

Weekend markets, boutique shops and gourmet pantries offer artisan cheese, handmade gifts, local produce and one-of-a-kind finds that don't turn up anywhere else. A great reason to wander without a plan.

EXPLORE THE TOWNS AND VILLAGES

Cessnock and Branxton offer great cafés, local shopping and easy access to the wider region. Singleton surprises visitors with a genuine arts scene, excellent dining and mountain bike trails at Lake St Clair that are earning a serious reputation. And Wollombi, one of the Hunter's most charming historic villages, is worth the drive for its sandstone buildings, boutique pub and local shopping and dining.

BRING THE WHOLE FAMILY

Many of the Hunter's most loved wineries and eateries are family-run and genuinely welcome children. Grassy cellar door grounds with room to roam, lawn games and sculpture walks keep younger visitors happy while you enjoy a tasting. The Hermitage Road cycleway connects boutique cellar doors and makes for a brilliant family ride, with plenty of spots along the way to stop, unpack a picnic and soak up the sunshine.

The Hunter Valley rewards however long you give it. But you'll almost certainly wish you'd stayed longer.

HERE'S TO classic pairings

The Hunter Valley has been setting the scene for unforgettable weddings for a long time, and it shows. Whatever you're imagining, the region has a version of it worth falling in love with.

A hilltop ceremony with vineyard rows stretching out behind you. A quaint country chapel with vintage wines and wildflowers. The barrel room of an iconic winery. A chic cellar door draped in fairy lights.

Pre-wedding festivities are well catered for too. Private tasting tours, craft breweries, day spas, champagne breakfasts and no shortage of good reasons to linger a little longer before the big day arrives.

The Hunter Valley's natural light is something photographers talk about. Award-winning local photographers know every corner of this landscape and exactly what to do with it. You'll go home with a gallery full of special memories.

Leave the reception details to venue professionals who have done this beautifully many times before. Exceptional catering, those local wines you've been dreaming about, and a celebration that stretches into the night under open skies or candlelit barrel room ambience.

All you need to think about is the person standing in front of you.

If you are wanting to say "I Do" in the Hunter Valley, discover our wedding open day trail on 17 January 2027.
