WELCOME TO WINE COUNTRY

When you need to breathe, trade the traffic for our winding rural drives that connect the cellar doors of 150 Australian wine icons and boutique producers with a personal touch. Relax into the magic of ancient Shiraz and internationally coveted Semillon vines, stretching as far as the eye can see from a hot air balloon drifting at dawn, and shadowed by the Brokenback escarpment glowing gold on dusk. Where freedom feels like live music under endless skies, the tee-off to a championship green, and being swept-up in the thrill of vintage at a hatted restaurant in a working winery.

Forage artisan farmgates, markets and village shopfronts and spice-up your culinary skills in fun sessions with legendary local chefs.

Stay a while, in resort luxury or a charming escape on a family estate, and know for yourself why so many of Australia's first families of wine, and compelling young producers, call Hunter Valley Wine Country home.

HERE'S TO COMING TOGETHER

Enjoy more of what we do best, at one-of-a-kind wine and food events, festivals with real regional flavour, live performances, markets you'll delight in foraging, and fun with a wow-factor for kids.

WITH BUDBURST COMES CONCERT SEASON IN SPRING

Thrill to the air of anticipation that arrives with Spring sunshine, grape vines bursting to life, and the return of the concert season. Think beer and blues, gin and jazz, seeing rock legends under starlit skies, and symphonies alfresco with a signature Hunter Valley Semillon in hand.

THE VINTAGE BUZZ BRINGS SUMMER ALIVE

Arguably the most exciting time to immerse yourself in intimate events hosted by local vineyards in the throws of vintage, you'll be spoilt for choice in Summer. Our holiday season highlight is the Southern Hemisphere's most extravagant display of Christmas lights.

EXHILARATING OUTDOOR AUTUMN EVENTS

As the vine leaves turn, a time of celebrating starts, with harvest lunches, must-do masterclasses and cooking workshops that will have you hungering for Hunter-grown produce.

WE'RE IN OUR ELEMENT OVER WINTER

The allure of a crackling woodfire and iconic Shiraz is made all the more irresistible by the wine and food experiences you'll warm to, all Winter.

ARTISANS ON DISPLAY

Local markets are the heartbeat of Hunter Valley villages like Wollombi, Branxton, Broke and Singleton, where you'll get to know local growers and artisans while browsing well-stocked stalls. You'll also find some cellar doors among locations for weekly or monthly markets.

HERE'S TO YOU TIME

COUNTING DOWN THE DAYS TO TEN VERY SPECIAL HUNTER VALLEY MOMENTS

10 HOSPITALITY, THE HUNTER VALLEY'S SWEET SPOT Have a chat with any one of our chefs or winemakers and you'll quickly gain a sense that we love what we do and have a way of making you feel at home from the moment we first connect. It's the little things, like being welcomed to picnic in the grounds of the family-run winery, or a thoughtful small farm cheese plate to take the edge off your late night check-in.

9 WE'LL TAKE YOU TO NEW HEIGHTS Champagne breakfast? Wait until you try it at 3,000 feet, drifting over vineyards into the rising sun in a hot air balloon. Venture up into the towering gums and terraced vineyards of Mount View for views to the coast from Bimbadeen lookout and a spectacular lunch spot perched high on the hilltop. Or make your special moment unforgettable, skimming the escarpment of Wollemi National Park with a scenic helicopter flight.

8 FRUITS OF THE VALLEY We'll proudly walk you through our sustainable kitchen gardens, swing open our farmgates, and roll-up our sleeves, to get you hands-on and hands-down wild about the valley-grown produce we're so passionate about. The care we invest in our soils, river system and sustainable farming methods, is the quality and flavour difference you'll appreciate in every glass we pour and plate we present.

7 AHHH ... SPA! Where better for that spa retreat than the lush green Hunter Valley, where you can drink in clean country air with every yoga Asana, immersed in blissful landscapes. Imagine basking by your own private woodfire post-couple's massage, with a satisfying glass of Hunter Valley wine. And how might star-gazing in complete solitude enhance your whole experience?

6 A GOOD NATURE-SOAK With wide-open spaces everywhere you turn, the kids can roam, and finding family time is easy. Stroll through manicured gardens with fun and colourful seasonal installations, or get competitive over a round of golf at one of our championship golf courses. Encounter native animals at the Hunter Valley Wildlife Park. Or get up-close with Clydesdales and Shetland ponies on a guided trail ride. Cycle along picturesque country lanes and meander through vineyard rows fringed with climbing roses.

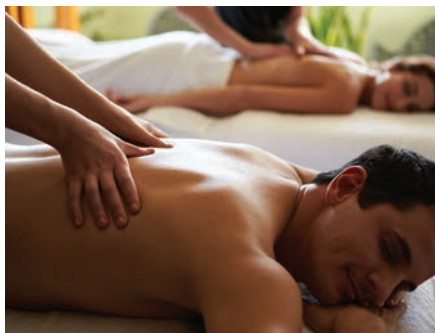

5 STANDING ON SACRED GROUND Flanked by ancient Wollemi forest, the region has a fascinating heritage and Aboriginal culture. Follow Wollombi Brook to historic Wollombi Village. Once a major junction of the convict-built Great North Road from Sydney, it dates back to the 1800's. A heritage walk takes in pretty sandstone churches, the old Court House and school.

4 TO MARKET TO MARKET Pull on a pair of boots, swing that market basket over your shoulder and start your weekend at a Wine Country market with a round-up of local growers, artisans, craftspersons and creatives you're going to love getting to know. Bespoke shopping comes with small-town territory. Chic boutiques and gift shops in gorgeous settings, alpaca barn and wine barrel furniture finds, village bakeries, decadent cheese rooms and gourmet pantries.

3 DRIVER DESIGNATED! Let a local do the driving for you and lead you to what piques your interest. An intimate half day drive for two, to whisk you away to the most romantic tables to be found, picture-perfect outlooks and the joy of new wine discoveries together. Embark on a small-group shuttle with adventurous friends, for that long lunch, concert, or chasing down craft beer, gin, cheese or chocolate indulgence.

2 HOW CREATIVE DO YOU WANT TO GET? Picture yourself, paintbrush in hand and a trophy red in your glass. Get your fill between tastings, at ever-changing gallery spaces or sculpture walks and a host of artistic endeavours at the Singleton Arts & Cultural Centre.

1 YOU'VE ARRIVED! With so much choice you'll be counting down the days until you can come back for more.

A WINE COUNTRY WELCOME FOR EVERYONE

SINGLE VINEYARD / SUSTAINABLY FARMED

HERE'S TO ALMOST 200 YEARS OF LEGENDARY

The Hunter Valley's enviable heritage of trailblazing viticulturists, winemaking dynasties and iconic wines, is where great Australian grape growing and winemaking all began. The valley's first small vineyard plots of about 20 acres were planted on the Northern banks of the Hunter River trade route in the early 1820's. Australia's first families of wine soon branched out into the surrounding hill country with more than 500 acres of vines and by the roaring '20s, had become the bastion of premium wine production.

Nearly 200 years down that winding country road and the pioneering spirit of Hunter Valley Wine Country lives on in an unrivalled class of skilled viticulturists and their winemaking counterparts who are unafraid of pushing boundaries to achieve distinctive wines that are rich in character and regional authenticity, vintage after vintage.

To this day, a handful of Hunter Valley estates are privileged to still produce sublime wines from 11 historic blocks of the original plantings, on ancient European root stocks that came over with the First Fleet. These vineyards are all the more rare for having remained unscathed by an outbreak of phylloxera in the late 1800's which decimated 70% of Europe's vineyards, making the vines some of the oldest in the world. You can find these prized Shiraz, Semillion and Chardonnay vineyards across the Valley.

The more you discover about Hunter Valley wine, the more you'll appreciate our torchbearers' legacy of great Australian winemaking, in every satisfying glass of Hunter Valley wine.

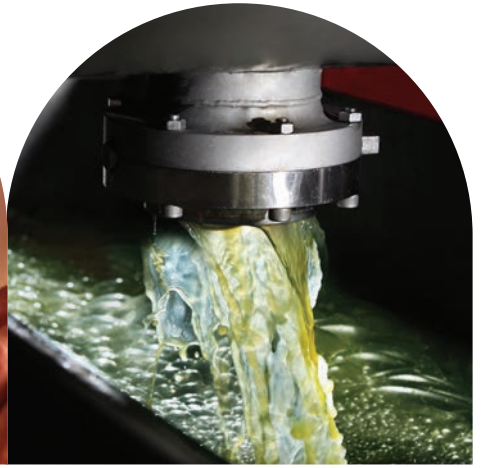

HERE'S TO HAND PICKING GREATNESS

Here in the Hunter Valley, we don't make wines en masse. We value quality and character over volume and it shines through in the many extraordinary wines unique to our region. Awarded by the world's top wine judges and enjoyed by wine lovers across the world, our iconic Semillon is the world's best. There's no denying our highly prized old-vine Shiraz has set an enduring benchmark for quality Australian wines and we lay claim to being the birthplace of classy Chardonnay. The trailblazer of Australia's grape growing and winemaking industry for almost 200 years, Hunter Valley Wine Country has cultivated its own, distinctive pedigree of hand-crafted wine styles, and thanks to the rise of a dynamic new generation of producers, the region's heart continues to beat for adventurous winemaking that inspires and delights.

Wine tasting in the Hunter Valley is a voyage of personal discovery. With as many as 30 different varieties to be explored, at more than 150 cellar doors in Pokolbin, Lovedale, Mount View, Hermitage Road, Broke Fordwich and Upper Hunter, the real fun is finding out what's gone into making the wine that peaks your interest. Local vineyards tend to be small to medium producers, so when you can't decide what you like most about a wine, you'll have the opportunity to ask the winemaker first-hand, at many of the cellar doors.

Is a wild yeast ferment the secret to that Chardonnay you're crazy about? Is that French or American oak tickling your palate? Has a particular patch of soil had a bearing on the heavenly aroma emanating from that glass you're swirling? Expect to feel inspired by wonderfully individual wine-making methods and our absolute passion for provenance.

On the hunt for a wine to get dinner conversation going? Choose from dozens of character-laden Mediterranean reds, like Tempranillo, Barbera or Sangiovese, zesty whites like Vermentino or Albariño, or a clean Verdelho.

Looking to cellar some wines? Classic Hunter Semillon, Shiraz and Chardonnay styles are impeccably made to age well and be enjoyed as fully matured wines. Intrigued by the new wave of wines? Track down our young talent for the magic of boundary-pushing blends, spritz-like wildcards, unfinned textures and unbridled creativity.

You're sure to be surprised and guaranteed to be inspired.

THE HUNTER'S NEW GROOVE

WE TALK TO WINE SELECTORS' ADAM WALLS AND WILL FIGUEIRA ABOUT HOW THE HUNTER VALLEY IS KEEPING THINGS FRESH.

After almost 200 years of grape-growing and winemaking, you'd be forgiven for thinking you'd tasted everything that Australia's original wine country has to offer discerning drinkers. We all know the Hunter Valley classics, after all. Big, bold Chardonnay, medium-bodied Shiraz, and, of course, Semillon you just can't find anywhere else.

However, a quick chat with Adam Walls – Tasting Panel Co-Chair, and Will Figueira – Tasting Panellist, of Australia's largest family-owned wine retailer, Wine Selectors, will soon set you straight on why the Hunter Valley is thriving in the contemporary landscape with a fresh and future-focussed perspective. "The Hunter Valley has always been a site of immense innovation," says Adam (or Wallsy, to his friends). "In fact, the region has diversified itself more than possibly any other region in the country."

And Adam certainly knows what he's talking about. Besides heading up the Wine Selectors Tasting Panel with celebrated winemaker PJ Charteris, he's a Len Evans Tutorial Dux, wine show judge and wine educator on such popular programmes as My Market Kitchen. He's been with Wine Selectors for over a decade now, whilst Will, a wine show judge and Hunter Valley wine expert, has been with them for six years. The company – a family-owned and operated business overseen by Hunter Valley Living Legend Greg Walls – has been hand-selecting the very best wines from our region for almost 50 years.

PROMISE AND POTENTIAL

Far from being stuck in its old ways, the Hunter is more dynamic than ever and is seeing an emerging generation of winemakers striding forward with confidence. "The Hunter still has young producers being drawn to the region – its prestige and unique character are appealing," says Will. "And then there's the younger generation of established Hunter Valley names who we are seeing flourish – the likes of Chris and Jane Tyrrell, Alessa and Ollie Margan, Sally and Jerome Scarborough, and Usher Tinkler."

Adam emphasises that it's a place that boasts an unrivalled fusion of tradition and experimentation, with both historic names and smaller, eccentric labels turning out exciting wines that are turning heads in the industry – and winning awards around the world.

"There's been a very smooth changing of the guard here, and the younger generation has become better at telling the stories of the region," says Adam. "The classic varieties are still revered and respected, but there's a greater willingness to evolve and experiment with old favourites, to meet the demands of changing consumer tastes."

One such example is Shiraz Pinot, an older-style blend made legendary in the 1950s and 1960s by Hunter Valley winemakers like the inimitable Maurice O'Shea of Mount Pleasant. It is back in a big way, according to Adam, embraced once again by Australian drinkers looking for a classic dry red.

PRODUCING THE GOODS

New wave wines are also making a big splash in the Hunter. “Newer varieties like Vermentino and Sangiovese are being planted and are proving perfect for the region’s climate – and a massive hit with wine lovers,” Adam says. “It’s part of a broader movement which is highlighting the many great vineyard sites here and what grows best in them.”

Exciting new trends and innovations aside, the classics haven’t been forgotten and continue to make their mark. “Tyrrell’s 2013 VAT 1 Semillon won New South Wales Wine of the Year at the 2022 New South Wales Wine Awards,” explains Will. “This demonstrates how relevant the Hunter continues to be – not only finishing a step above all White wines in show, but also all Red, Sparkling and Rosé.”

For a region that produces such impressive wines, the Hunter Valley has had its fair share of challenges in recent years, with the 2020 bushfires, 2021 and 2022 floods, and an unusually late 2023 vintage. Will points to the region’s resilience in the face of adversity, evidencing three strong years of winemaking in 2017, 2018 and 2019, despite experiencing very dry conditions, proving its ability to come back bigger and better.

“Vintage 2023 is looking like a very good year for reds and whites, and although the quantity of fruit is down, the quality looks excellent,” says Will. “Andrew Thomas, of Thomas Wines, has said the Shiraz is looking as good as 2018 and 2014.”

With so much happening in Hunter wine, it can be hard to experience everything it has to offer. That’s what makes Wine Selectors’ Hunter Valley wine subscriptions so fantastic – each dozen you get showcases the sheer diversity and quality of the Hunter’s great varieties, vineyards and winemakers, making it easy to explore both the heritage and innovation of the wine scene that continues to thrive along the Brokenback Range. There’s no better way to discover anew the charm of Hunter wines than with Wine Selectors. After all, the business sprang from these blessed soils.

In fact, a fresh box from Wine Selectors has just landed on our doorstep, so you’ll have to excuse us... we have some research to catch up on!

HERE'S TO GREAT TASTE

Incredible food experiences are a way of life in this lush valley. Blessed with a bounty of amazing food artisans and extraordinary chef talent with diverse culinary roots, we live and breathe hospitality. So prime your appetite for some serious feasting between exploring cellar doors.

We're talking flame-grilling over fire-pits, sophisticated food and wine pairings, long table lunches between vineyard rows, restaurant veggie patches ripe for picking, chef sessions to supercharge your home cooking, grazing local cheesemakers, chocolatiers and smokehouses, a sneaky glass of sparkling with breakfast, and being brought undone by the impossibility of settling for just one dessert, from an eye-popping array of bespoke sweets.

Taste the flavour difference in the locally farmed produce our foodies are wild about sharing. We let the growing season shape our menus, so there's always something fresh to feel enticed by. Tempted to try your hand at cheesemaking? Get savvy with slow cooking? Perfect your paella? Expand your repertoire with a culinary class and a glass of iconic Hunter wine to take the whole experience up a notch. Your food-loving heart will fall hard for our Hunter Valley food community and culture.

HERE'S TO WORLD-CLASS CUISINE

The real joy of wine is found in good company enjoying great food together. The gifted chefs of the Hunter Valley are every bit as picky about what they present to you, as our skilled winemakers are. Locals love nothing more than to carve out an afternoon for a long lunch and lively conversation about the wines they've laboured all year to bottle, so don't be surprised to find yourself rubbing shoulders with them at any one of our 30 plus eateries.

You'll have your choice of 5 hatted restaurants (and more than any other regional area in Australia!), no end of intimate settings overlooking vines that the wine in your glass has been harvested from, wickedly good dessert bars, and relaxed pubs or cafés where you can kick back in country ambience without missing a beat on deliciousness.

The heart and soul of Hunter food culture is produce-driven menus and passionate people who work tummy-rumbling magic with their pick of an abundant regional crop, much of it grown within a stone's throw of where you're devouring it. Our fanatical foodies believe the perfection of what they plate-up, hangs on out-of-this-world, locally farmed raw ingredients, so bursting with flavour that you can almost taste the sunshine. Chances are, the chef was up to his knees in mud and gumboots just before your arrival, foraging some finishing touches from the kitchen garden.

Park yourself by an open woodfire and you'll quickly acclimatise to a food adventure with a share plate of artisan cheeses, from the dairy down the road, dripping with honeycomb that's fragrant with the gum blossom of towering local eucalypts. Really savour the sweetness of local lamb and beef that melts so beautifully onto your fork, the crispness of veggies you never knew tasted so good, and a smokiness that sets your mouth watering as it wafts in with your sourdough.

It's all part of the trophy-wine-worthy food experience that is, in essence, wonderfully simple, defiantly regional, and certain to leave you craving more.

A little birdie told me ...

HERE'S TO TREATING YOUR TASTEBUDS

Chasing down must-try tastings? Put our gourmet artisans into your GPS for food finds unique to the Hunter Valley that are every bit as true to regional character as our premium wines. Local farming families have for decades harvested ripe and delicious figs, citrus and avocados, still eagerly sought for the larders of our best chefs, and sold from the farmgate.

The olive groves of 30 boutique growers thrive in our Mediterranean-like climate. Immensely proud of their fragrant and fruity extra virgin oil, they'll tempt you with salad-transforming flavour-infused varieties, barrel aged vinegars, tapenades and moreish marinated olives.

Delectably creamy, small-dairy cheeses abound, and you can peek behind the scenes to see some of Australia's most skilled soft cheese makers in action. For picnic-ready pâté and house-cured charcuterie, head straight to the smokehouse.

Almost-too-pretty-to-eat pastries, luscious preserves, raw honey, crackly-crustured heirloom-starter sourdough, chocolate bark laced with native flavours and intricately hand painted bonbons are all part of the local gourmet landscape.

If you're sold on the idea that everything tastes better on tap, our independent brewers have you covered. You can quench your thirst on a range of beers and ciders. Some of our breweries also offer brewery tours, live music and snacks to go with your schooner or tasting paddle of freshly made ale.

HERE'S TO THE LANDSCAPE AND THE PORTRAITS

In a place so beautiful, creativity, arts and culture go hand in hand with wine and food culture. A sip of wine and you might feel inclined to explore your creative side with a gallery visit, culture walk, or art class, or discover a host of artistic endeavours at the Singleton Arts & Cultural Centre.

Outdoor art installations in surrounding towns and villages include sixty eye-catching murals at Kurri Kurri, telling the stories that shaped the region. Spring brings an annual Sculpture Festival at Wollombi, where you can also explore Yengo National Park and see Circuit Flat Bridge, one of Australia's oldest, built by convicts in 1831.

Mount Bright, Bimbadeen and Pokolbin Mountains Road lookouts are all easily accessible treks through surrounding National Park. Ancient engravings at Biame Cave and Finchley Culture Walk are something to behold.

Equally exhilarating is cantering across farmland on horseback with a guided tour that's tailored to your riding experience. Free-ranging your way down winding country roads on two wheels is quite literally a breath of fresh air. Or fly free as a bird above a patchwork of vineyards and drift into a fiery sunrise, by hot air balloon.

HERE'S TO FAMILY TIME

MAKE GREAT FAMILY MEMORIES Many of our most popular wineries, eateries and activities are family-run and not only welcome children but offer thoughtful extras, just for them. You won't miss a beat finding experiences to make treasured memories with the whole family, throughout your stay.

SO MUCH SPACE FOR SERIOUS FUN Playtime here goes further than our riverside, vineyard and small town playgrounds. Within the grounds of cellar doors you'll visit, grassy surrounds where the kids are free to roam, sculpture walks, lawn games, and themed gardens with fairy-tale installations and seasonal displays, from dinosaurs and snow to Christmas lights. Curious kids will be thrilled to see chickens and be greeted by friendly farm dogs. Chase adventure tracing heritage stock routes by segway. Delight the kids with hand-feeding farm animals and kangaroos at Hunter Valley Wildlife Park and book an awesome encounter with a python or cute baby wombat.

NO NEED TO SKIP THE TASTINGS ALL TOGETHER We're not short on cellar doors creative with keeping the kids engaged while you savour the wines. Think local cheese and kombucha tastings for teens, snack-matching for kids, Giant Jenga, colouring-in, activity boxes, or a dedicated children's zone.

BRING THE BIKES Or hire them here! Active families can follow Hermitage road cycleway from one boutique cellar door to another, pausing for family photos in spectacular scenery. Pack a picnic lunch and pick a spot in lush countryside to soak in the fresh air and sunlight together.

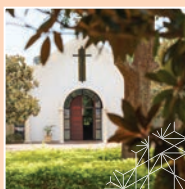

TEMPT FUSSY EATERS WITH FOOD ADVENTURE We're big on just-picked produce. Explore a kitchen garden on the way to your table to spark your kids' appetite for eating well. Book a big family table for a great value country pub meal, ease into your mornings together with a relaxed café breakfast, take wood-fired pizza back to your vineyard, stay for quality time-out, share a generous graze-board of local cheeses and charcuterie, or treat the fam to fine-dining where the chef's signature style is carried over to the kids menu. Chocolate creations here are an art form, and don't even get us started on our infamous dessert bar!

A SOUVENIR OF YOUR STAY Pop into a weekend village market, our Visitors Centre, or any one of our gourmet pantries or gift shops for a treasure-trove of locally-made goodies to take home and enjoy, but the best thing you'll leave with, is great memories of your family adventures in the valley.

A ONE OF A KIND SHOPPING EXPERIENCE

Treat yourself to a bit of boutique shopping surrounded by beautiful gardens. Relax over a delicious meal or coffee with the family. Then head over to the kid's playground and BBQ area. It sounds like a great day out!

At Hunter Valley Gardens Shopping Village, you'll discover speciality stores, cafes, restaurants, a general store and even a cellar door. All in one place.

HERE'S TO MORE THAN A WEEKEND

Picture yourself relaxed and of good cheer, living the Hunter Valley good life to the full. Even a short stay will quickly have you feeling revitalised and right at home in the vineyard landscape.

Whether you're visiting for work, pleasure, or hoping to strike an ideal balance between the two, you can afford to be selective about what you want to experience, with so many wonderful accommodation options to choose from.

Imagine waking to an oasis of calm, and wild kangaroos, at your cosy cottage in the vines, or cracking a bottle of Semillon at a secluded wilderness cabin, high on the escarpment with a birds eye view of the valley.

Maybe you're more inclined to book a contemporary country home with all the creature comforts, and feel your shoulders relax with that first slurp of Shiraz grown on the private wine estate you're staying on.

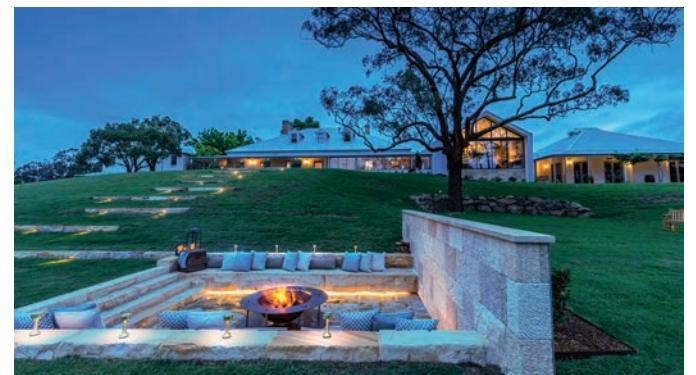

Perhaps you're set on spoiling yourself with some mid-week pampering at a luxury spa resort, or treating someone to a romantic retreat, where there's some local sparkling on ice and an open log fire.

Are you angling to get out of town for a five star golfing getaway? Or thinking about shaking up your conferencing with greater destination appeal?

If arriving in style is important to you, private helicopter charters and limousine transfers can easily be found.

Wherever you stay, you'll be surrounded by award winning cellar doors, extraordinary restaurants, vibrant cafés and brilliant craft breweries.

Expect to be lavished with hospitality, because it's what the Hunter Valley does best.

WINE AND

FOOD TRAILS

POKOLBIN

Following a Wine & Food Trail through one of our seven sub regions is a rewarding way to make the most of the must-try wines and not-to-be-missed tasting experiences across the Hunter Valley.

Explore the heart of the Hunter Valley, Pokolbin, or take the road less travelled to the boutique wineries of Broke Fordwich. Cruise the winding roads of Lovedale, or cycle around picture-perfect Hermitage Road.

Weave your way up to the hilltops of Mount View, or follow in pioneering footsteps, down convict-built roads in Wollombi.

Whichever trail you take, the diversity of wine styles, grape varieties and growing methods will astound you.

Start at the very heart of Wine Country and savour some of the Valley's most iconic drops. A significant contingent of Australia's first families of wines have cellar doors here. Taste the old vine wines grown on ancient European root stocks dated back to the 1800's.

HERE'S TO THE GOOD LIFE IN POKOLBIN

- Relishing rare wines, Australian wine royalty or a paddle of coldies at a craft brewery
- Challenging yourself to the vineyard-fringed golf courses
- Pampering yourself with sparkling, spa treatments and bespoke retail therapy
- Immersing in 8 hectares of exotic flowers, grottos and themed gardens
- Falling under the temptation of smelly cheeses and bakery temptations.

AROUND HERMITAGE

A haven for boutique winemakers and brewers who'll share their heart for what they do while pouring you a glass. On cycleways and country lanes, you'll find yourself posting pretty-as-a-picture landscapes, everywhere you turn.

HERE'S TO THE GOOD LIFE IN AROUND HERMITAGE

- Working off long lunches by cycling between wineries
- Gathering around croquet, giant Jenga or chess on a vineyard
- Snapping and posting some of the Valley's most spectacular scenery
- A Spring masterclass at First Release Wine Week
- Chatting with small batch producers and feeling more knowledgeable for the experience.

LOVEDALE

You've got to love the enduring tradition of the Lovedale Long Lunch. Local cellar doors are small and intimate but make character-laden wines to a very high standard. Experience sunset trike tours, a charming trattoria, artisan smokehouse, small farm cheesery, cooking classes and amazing ballooning.

HERE'S TO THE GOOD LIFE IN LOVEDALE

- The ultimate progressive tasting at Lovedale Long Lunch
- Riding the thermals in a hot air balloon for two, or 24 friends, on sunrise
- A sunset trike ride to watch the mountain range burn gold
- A behind the scenes peek at one of Australia's premier soft cheese makers in action.

MOUNT VIEW

At dizzying elevations on the slopes of the Brokenback range, panoramic valley vistas are just the beginning. Terraced vineyards with bellbirds, cottages hidden-away in the forest canopy and Provencal ambience at one of the region's most awarded restaurants.

HERE'S TO THE GOOD LIFE IN MOUNT VIEW

- Watching wallabies from your deck
- Being whisked by helicopter from your luxury villa on the escarpment, to exclusive cellar door experiences
- Deferring to the godfather of Hunter dining for your menu selection at a little piece of Provence that screams romance
- Seeing clear to the snow-capped peaks of Barrington Tops from Bimbadeen Lookout.

BROKE FORDWICH

Take the road less travelled to where olive groves and family vineyards border tranquil Wollombi Brook. Get to know local wine-makers big on regional character and estate wines. Enjoy a stay on a working vineyard, and outstanding agri-dining at a hatted restaurant.

HERE'S TO THE GOOD LIFE IN BROKE FORDWICH

- Talking terroir with the legend behind what's in your tasting glass
- Winding down with a wine at your guesthouse nestled in the vines
- Gorging yourself on BBQ at Smoke in Broke
- 'A Little Bit of Broke', a festival style weekend in May that lets you explore the wine trail less travelled.

WOLLOMBI VALLEY

Meaning 'meeting place' to the Wonnorua Nation, Wollombi's sacred aboriginal sites, colonial village, and echoes of bushrangers, set the tone of an exciting tasting trail. Trace the footsteps of early settlers along the convict-built Great North Road and taste vines established in the 1850's.

HERE'S TO THE GOOD LIFE IN WOLLOMBI

- Lazy breakfasts at an unassuming little café that moonlights after-dark as a tapas and gin bar
- Experiencing the Convict Trail and Great North Walk
- Hiking or mountain biking through vast National Parks dotted with convict-built ruins
- Enjoying an atmosphere of enthusiastic locals at Sculpture in the Vineyards.

UPPER HUNTER

Revel in cellar doors dotted amongst world class horse studs and farming country complete with historical homesteads for short stays. Meander along the wine growing regions of Broke Fordwich, Denman and Scone.

HERE'S TO THE GOOD LIFE IN THE UPPER HUNTER

- Quaffing elegant Cabernet with a satisfyingly rustic lunch
- Close encounters with enormous Clydesdales, and eye-opening equine tours
- Foraging country markets for fresh pressed olive oil, garlic garlands, free range eggs, Wagyu beef and even camel milk!
- Making a beeline with a bottle of wine and picnic-pack, to World Heritage-listed rainforests at Barrington Tops.

The Hunter Valley produces less than two per cent of Australia's wine, yet lays claim to some of the industry's oldest and most well-known winemaking families, and consistently produces an impressive, award-winning array of varieties and styles.

The Hunter Valley sets the world benchmark for Semillon, and it is, both nationally and internationally, the most highly awarded variety produced in the region. In its youth, it is zesty, bright with lemon/lime aromas and flavours, and has a delicate acidity to finish – perfect for fresh seafood. Those who are prepared to wait are rewarded with complexity – biscuit, malt, honey and toasty richness.

Typically medium to full-bodied in style, Hunter Valley Chardonnay is characterised by peach, fig and tropical fruit-like flavours with crisp and fresh unwooded styles, and full-bodied, rich and fulfilling wooded styles.

A style unique to the Hunter Valley, Verdelho, customarily made without oak, is a fruit-driven medium-bodied wine.

Shiraz is undoubtedly the most important red variety in the Hunter Valley. Regionally distinctive, it is medium to full-bodied, characterised when young by blackberry, mulberry and plum characters, as well as spice, chocolate and liquorice with the characteristic regional earthy, leathery tones and complexity developing with age.

Our hero wine icons – Semillon, Shiraz, Chardonnay and Verdelho are supported by up and coming European varieties such as Tempranillo, Sangiovese, Barbera, Montepulciano, Fiano and Vermentino which are thriving in the Hunter climate.

A number of specialty wines, including organic, sparkling, fortified and dessert wines, are also produced. No matter what your preference, you'll always find a style to share and enjoy in the Hunter Valley.

DE IULIIS 2022 CELLAR DOOR OF THE YEAR

HUNTER VALLEY LEGENDS & WINE INDUSTRY AWARDS

Sponsored by Wine Selectors, The Cellar Door of the Year award recognises excellence at a Hunter Valley Cellar Door.

As one of the Hunter Valleys' top producers, the De Iuliis family creates wines of excellence and outstanding quality. Join De Iuliis for one of their wine-tasting experiences and discover why they've recently been awarded the 2022 Hunter Valley Cellar Door of the Year.

Open daily from 10 am, you can enjoy flights of their award-winning handcrafted Hunter Valley wines with their friendly team. Their Signature Shiraz Experience is made for red wine lovers with a chance to taste their exceptional shiraz over two decades. Delight your palate with the opportunity to taste their Limited Release Shiraz which has been awarded the Best Red Wine at the Hunter Valley Wine Show in 2021 & 2022.

Are you looking for more? You can even go behind the scenes with their DeLuxe Winery Tour Experience and discover the winemaking process from grape to glass before sitting down and enjoying a wine flight and local cheese selection.

De Iuliis (de-uli-iss) may be one of the hardest names to say in the Australian wine industry, but it is one of the best. And no matter if you are an experienced wine drinker or just want to learn more, the De Iuliis team will make your Hunter Valley experience truly memorable.

1616 Broke Rd, Pokolbin – Open Daily 10am–5pm

Finalists are independently assessed against cellar door presentation, cellar door team, cellar door sales and social/digital experience.

HERE'S TO CLASSIC PAIRINGS

What's your wedding heaven? A hilltop ceremony with terraced vineyard backdrop or a quaint country chapel? Vintage chic with vintage wines, or the barrel room of an iconic contemporary winery? Find the perfect setting for the day you've dreamed of, here in Hunter Valley Wine Country.

Pre-wedding time with your tribe is made easy with no end of private tasting tours, craft breweries and bars, lavish day spas and champagne breakfasts.

Bathed in flattering natural light, there's so much to love about every scenic corner of the Hunter Valley for your own unique photography backdrops. Award-winning local photographers are masters of heart-stopping locations in their own backyard.

You're guaranteed to take home a gorgeous, forever gallery of candid, fun and genuinely relaxed moments together to cherish.

Put your all-important reception in the hands of experienced venue professionals and your unmistakable style will shine in every element of your special occasion. Embrace our sub-tropical climate and celebrate into the night under starlit skies, or opt for barrel room ambience, a restaurant within a working winery, or chic cellar door.

Down to the detail of exquisite catering, and those local wines the happy couple are crazy about, everything can be taken care of for you, so you need only think about that special someone standing in front of you.
